FACULTY MEETINGS

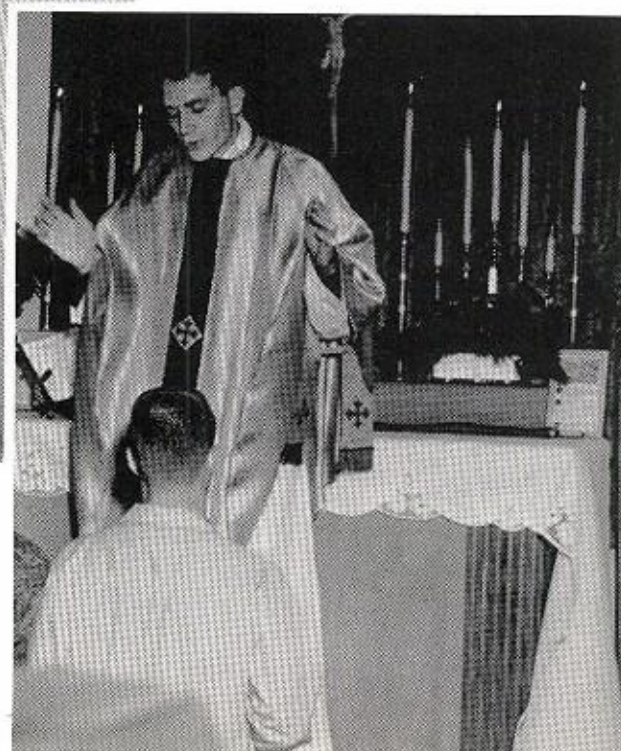

Monthly FIRST FRIDAY FACULTY MEETINGS under the leadership of our principal, Sister Walter Marie, make for well-organized classes for growth in science and skills.

SPIRITUAL LIFE

Father Donald McLeish of Austin directs the student retreat. Offering the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass on the floor of the gymnasium, he brings the student-body closer to the sacrificial altar.

Father McLeaish explains the true meaning of the altar sacrifices.

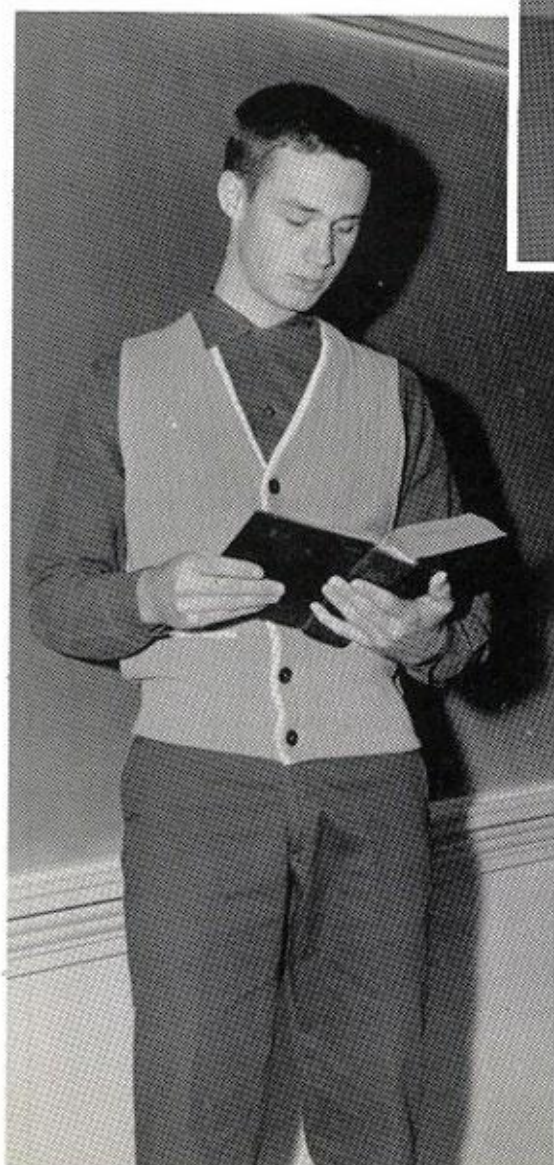

Sodality Prefect, Tom Frank, leads the morning prayers of praise.

Spiritual strength gained through chapel visits.

RELIGION CLASSES

The study of Sacred Scripture and all other classes in religion are inspirations to serve God well.

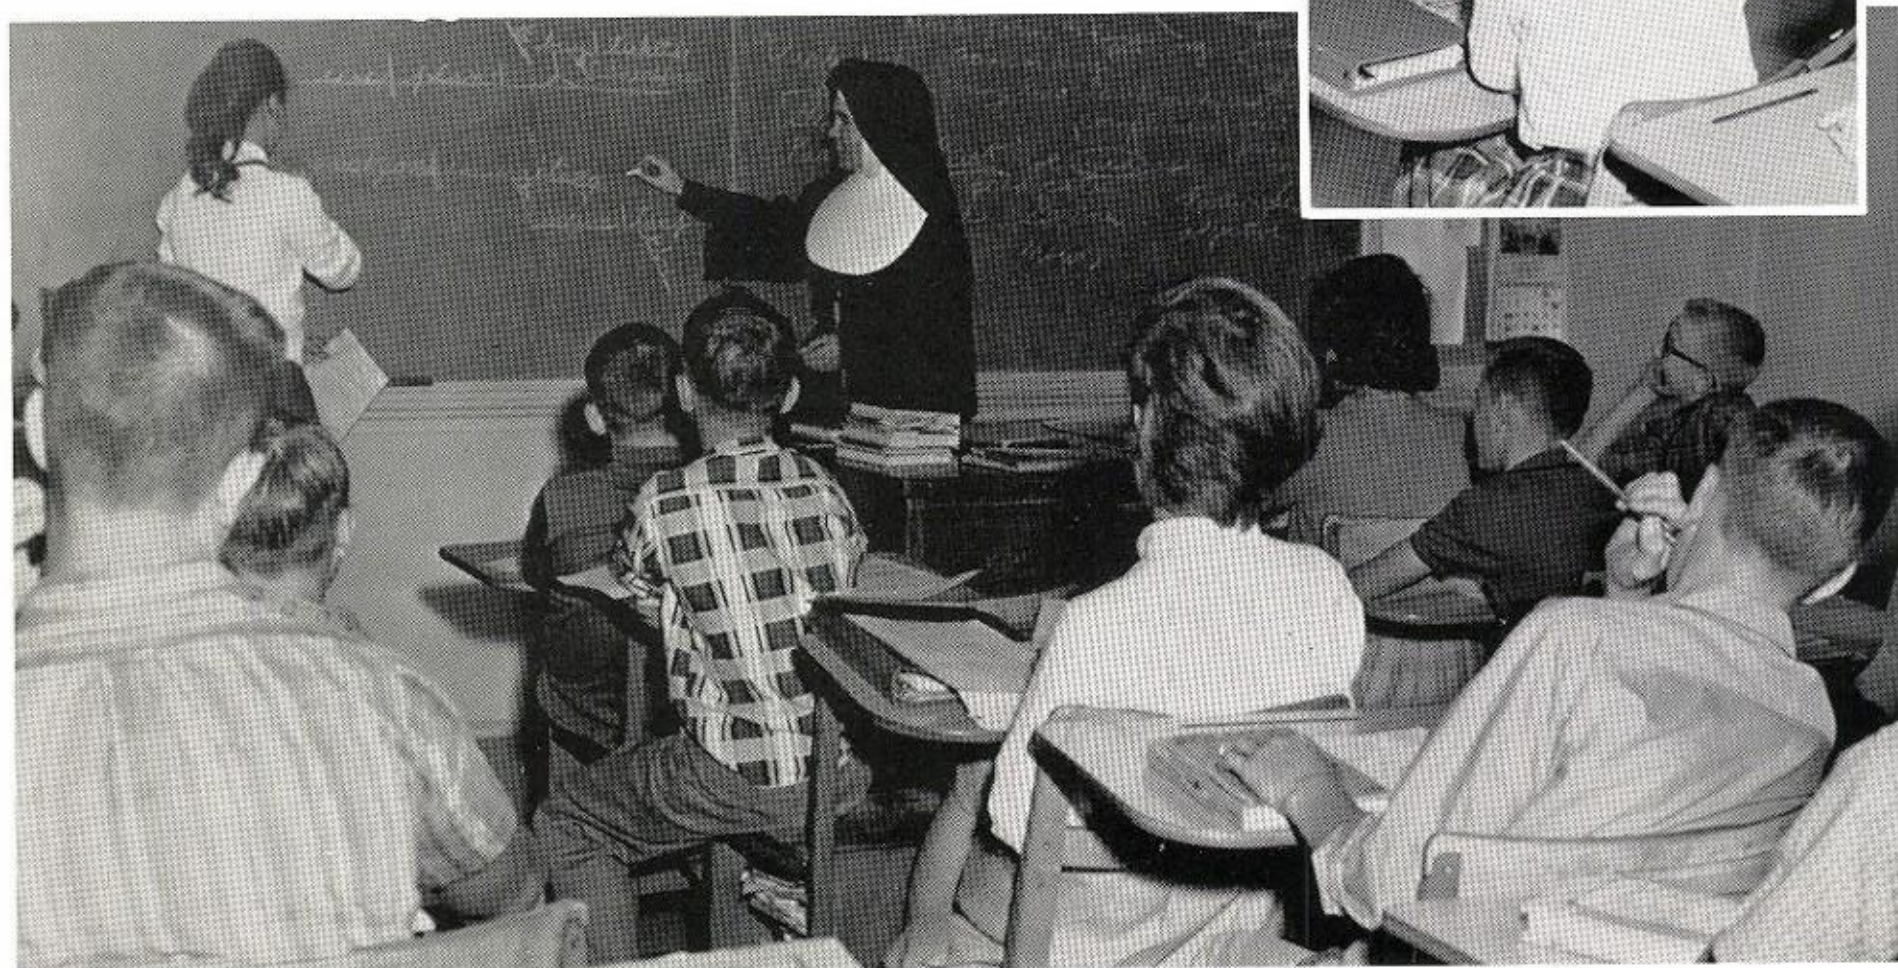

MASTERING ENGLISH ESSENTIALS

Giving oral reports. Learning to answer the telephone in a courteous manner . . . or directing a class television program are aids to correct grammar usage.

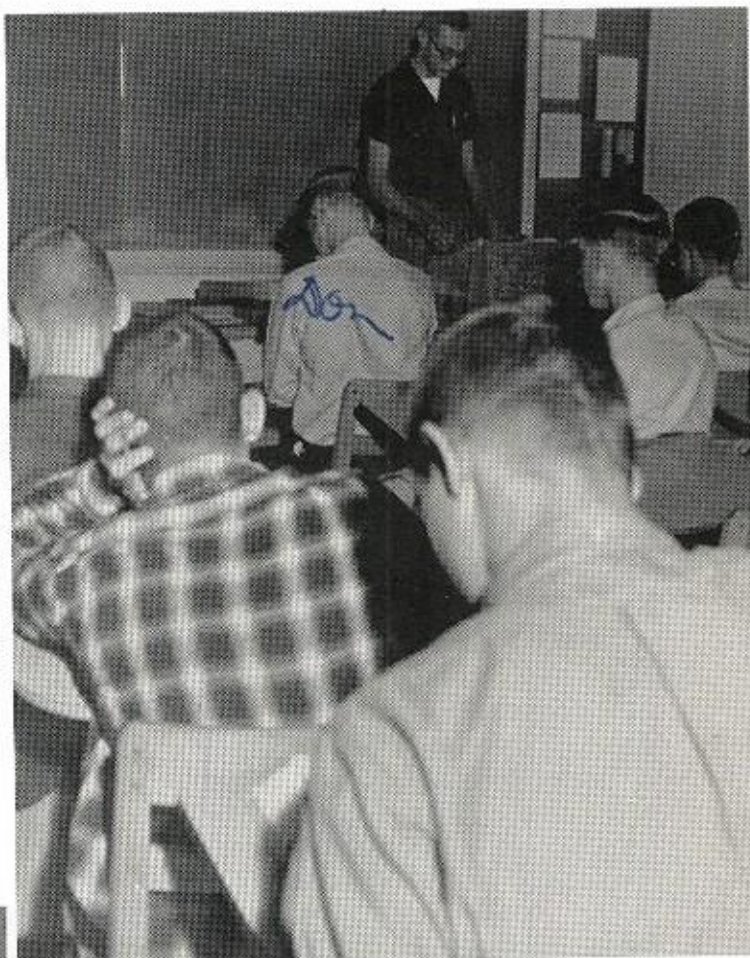

Diagramming sentences make for clearer thinking.

APPRECIATING LITERATURE

Learning to read stories skillfully gives greater satisfaction and pleasure.

Learning that great literature contains human values of great importance . . . in poem, story, or essay.

Dramatization does alert the imagination!

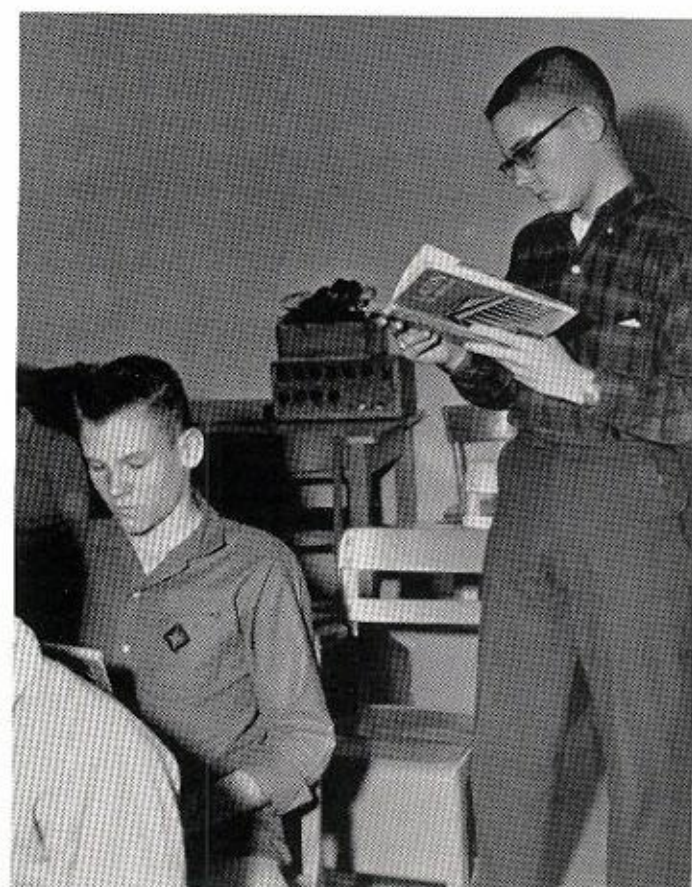

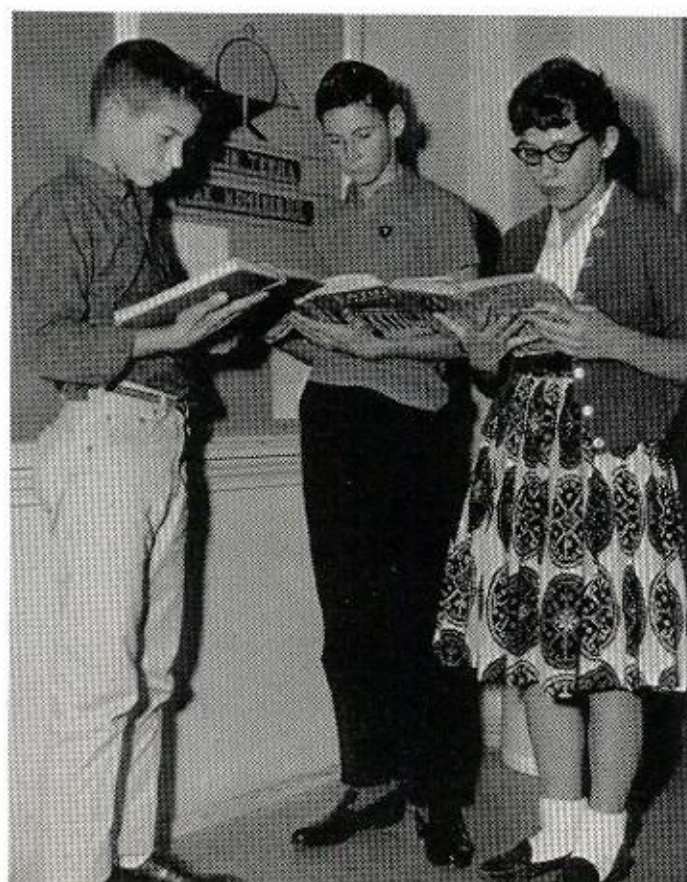

Connie está lista para usar el micrófono. And our senior Spanish student is writing, "Un resumen sobre San Agustin." Sister Maria is the instructor.

Freshman girls in Sister Marie Edouarda's math class master intricate algebraic equations. Mr. Henry's eighth grade class solves perimeter problems through the formula $P=2(l+w)$.

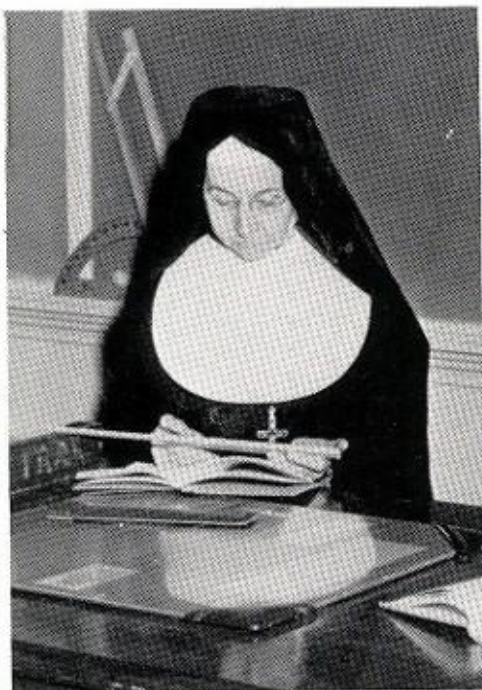

MATHEMATICIANS AT WORK

Beauty and brains do mix! Tough problems in Sister Margaret Ruth's sophomore and senior geometry classes become more meaningful through student demonstration.

MATH CLASSES

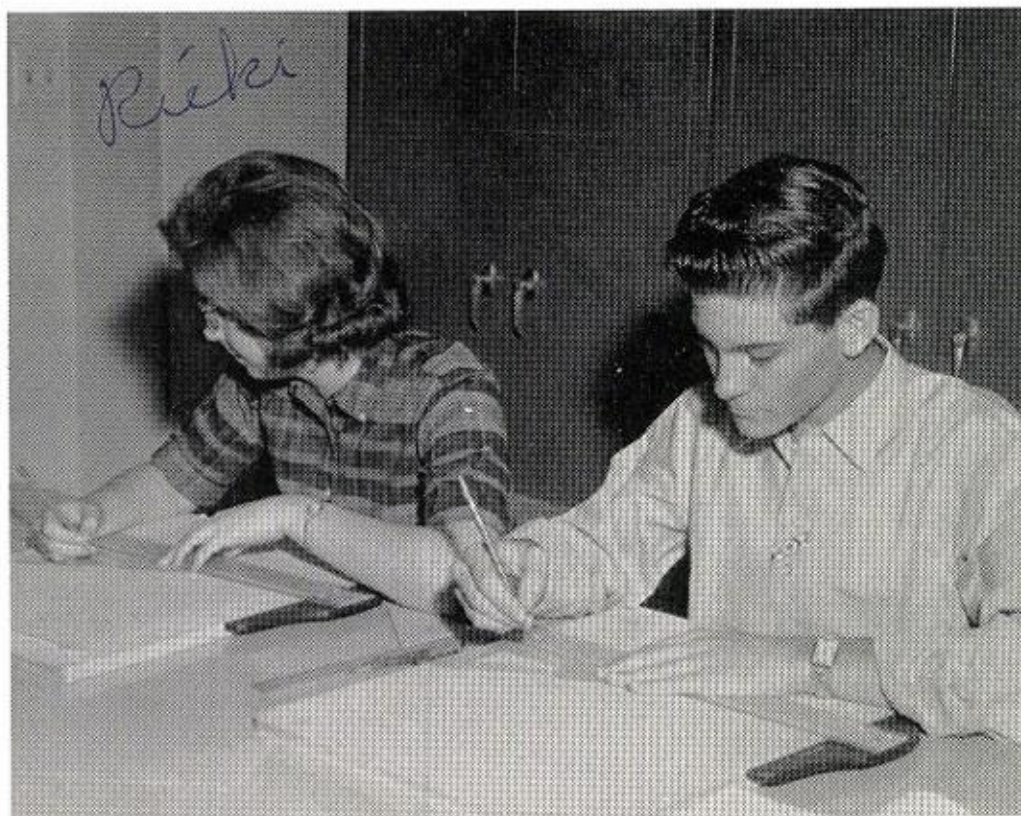

Sister Margaret Ruth proves to juniors that to reduce the complexities of a sentence to a mathematical formula calls for clear thinking.

Sister Margaret Ruth

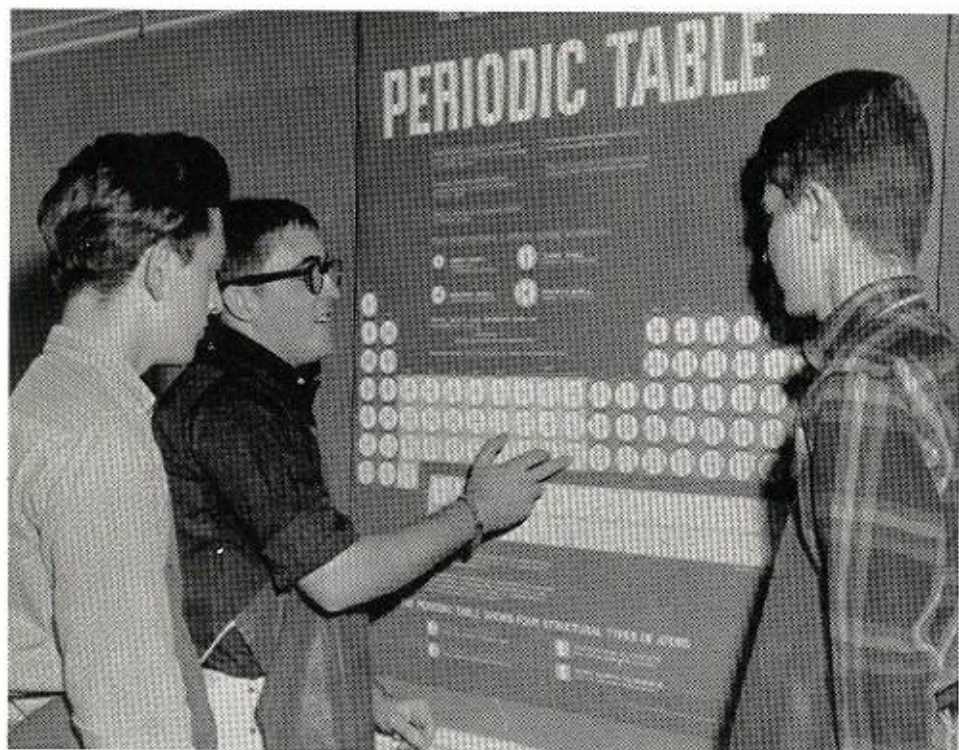

Sister Marie Edouarda

Student demonstrations are valuable in better understanding of geometric constructions.

The drafting class taught by Sr. Marie Edouarda show skillful use of instruments to plot scaled drawings.

DRAFTING CLASS

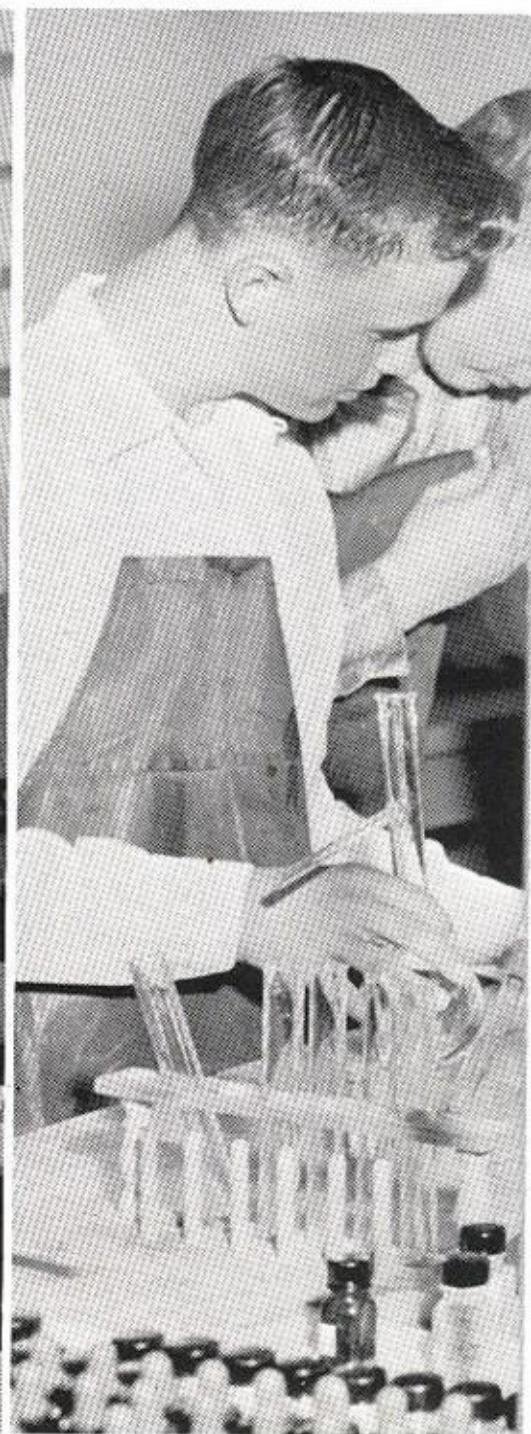

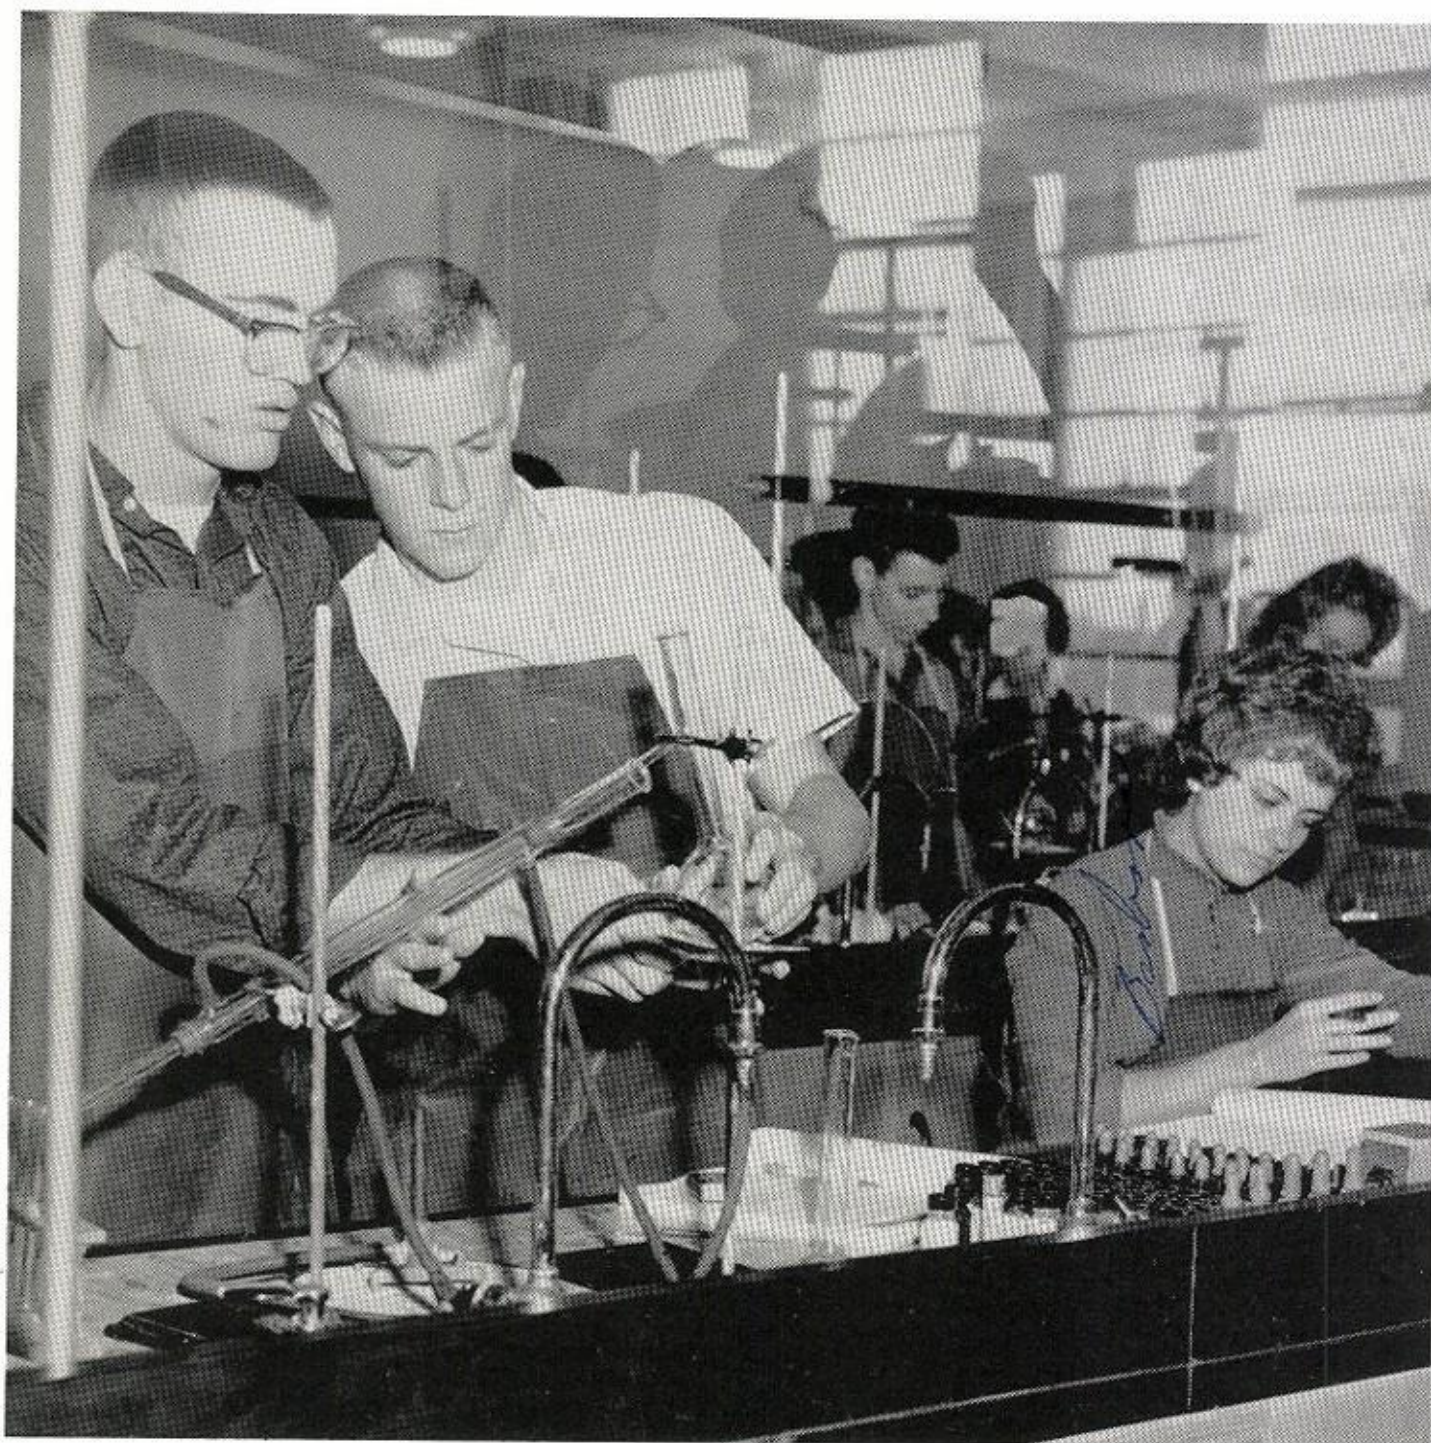

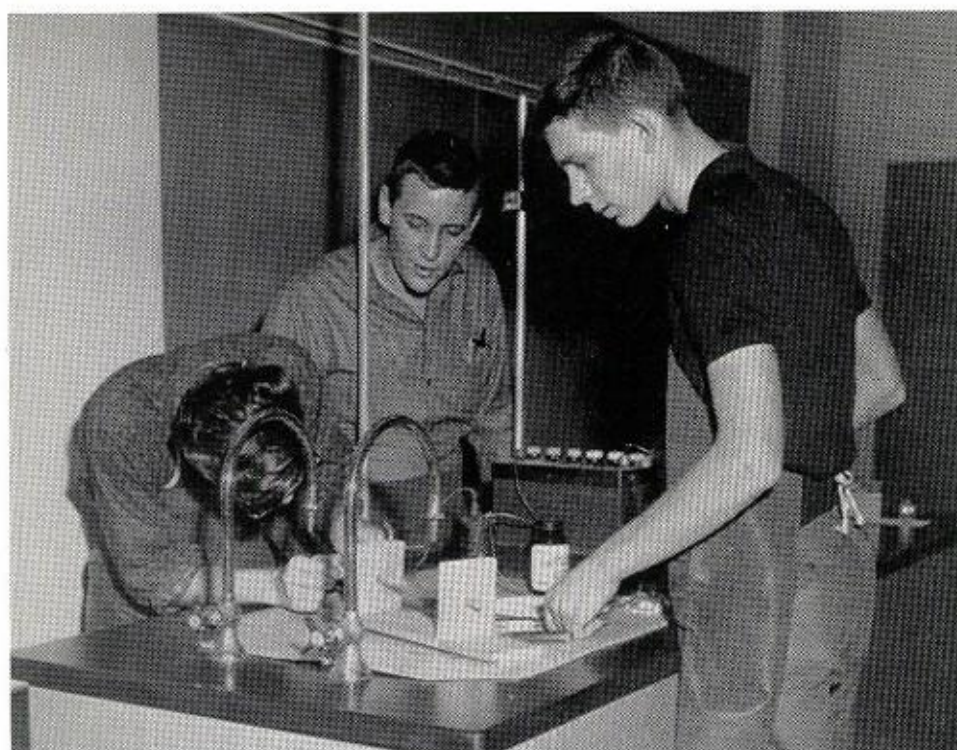

Tom Myers explaining the transition elements of gold and mercury.

Three budding scientists learning the techniques of measuring quantities.

Junior chemists caught in the act of deep concentration in purifying water by means of distillation.

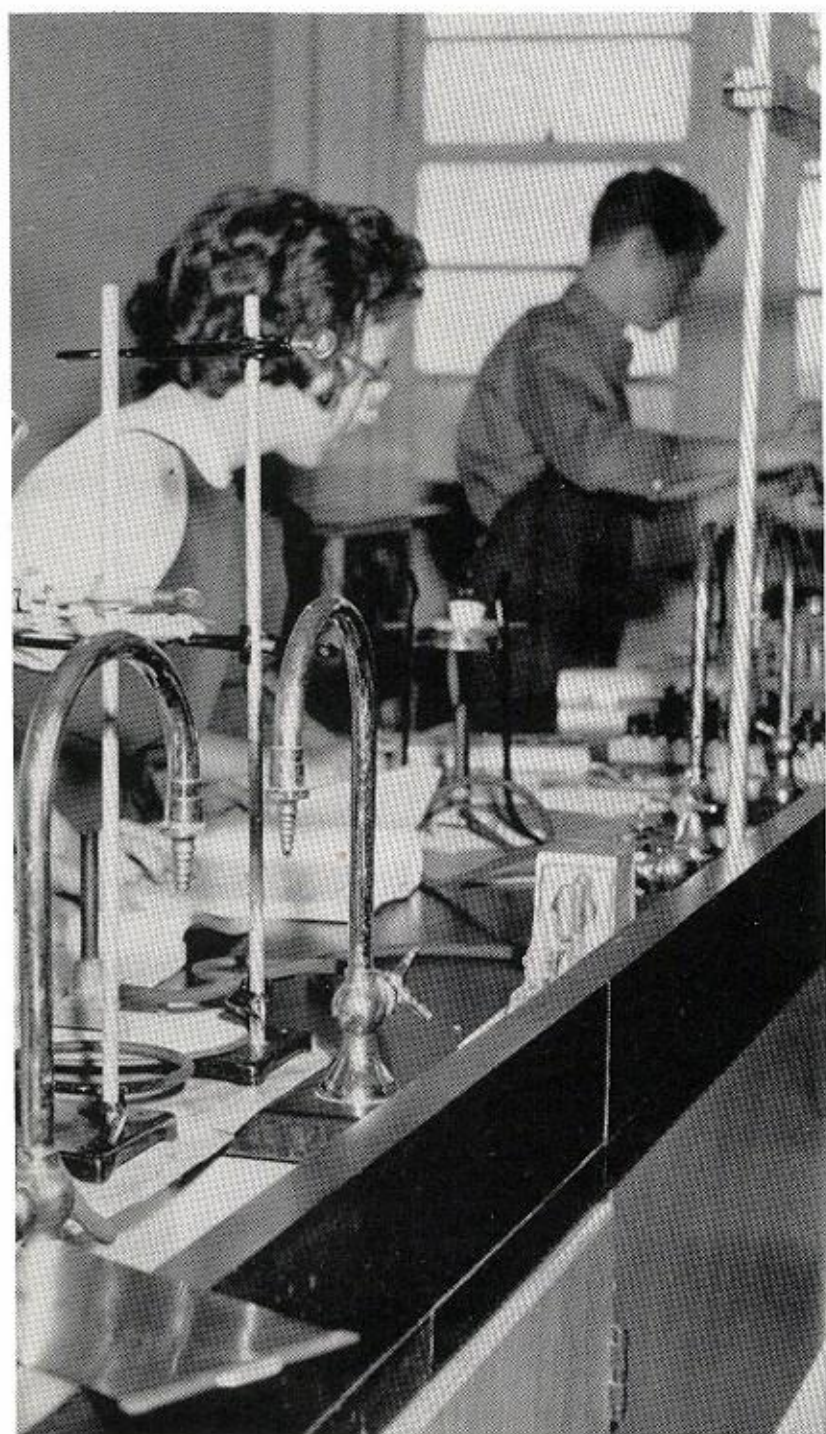

Courageous chemists trying to manufacture ozone - O_3 .

Determining the percentage of oxygen in air. Sister Margaret Ruth watches.

CHEMISTRY

Watching centrifuge separate a solid from its solvent.

A lucky team . . . in a novel way they are the first to obtain the correct percentage of oxygen in air.

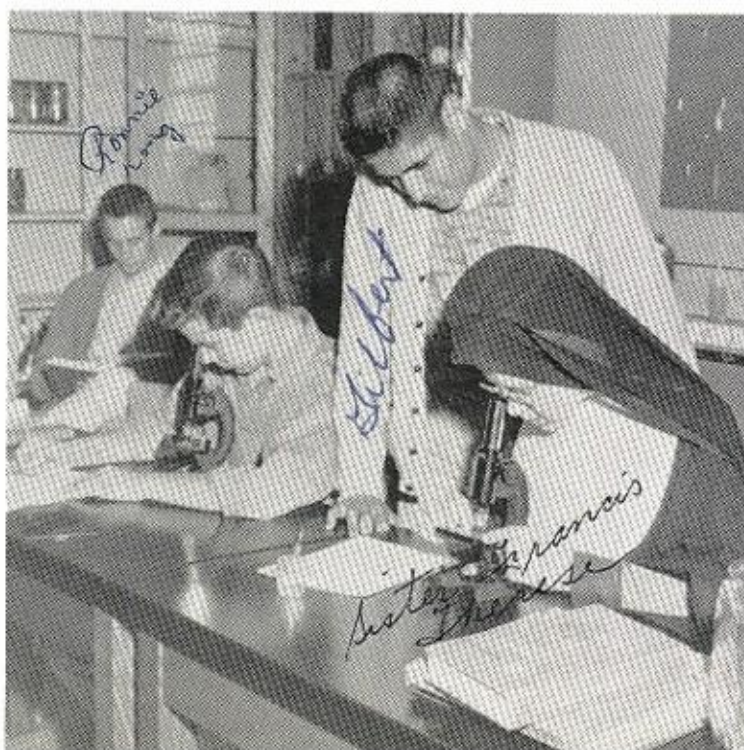

Preserved specimens catch the fancy of two sophomore biologists.

Placing samples of pond water on slides for microscopic examinations.

A LAB OVERFLOWING WITH ACTIVITIES

The camera caught these students examining sponge structures microscopically or with the naked eye. A microscopic search for an amoeba baffles Gilbert Hernandez; Sister Frances Therese goes to his aid. And there is a bit of teamwork in examining bacteria and mold growth, in the last group of young biologists portrayed.

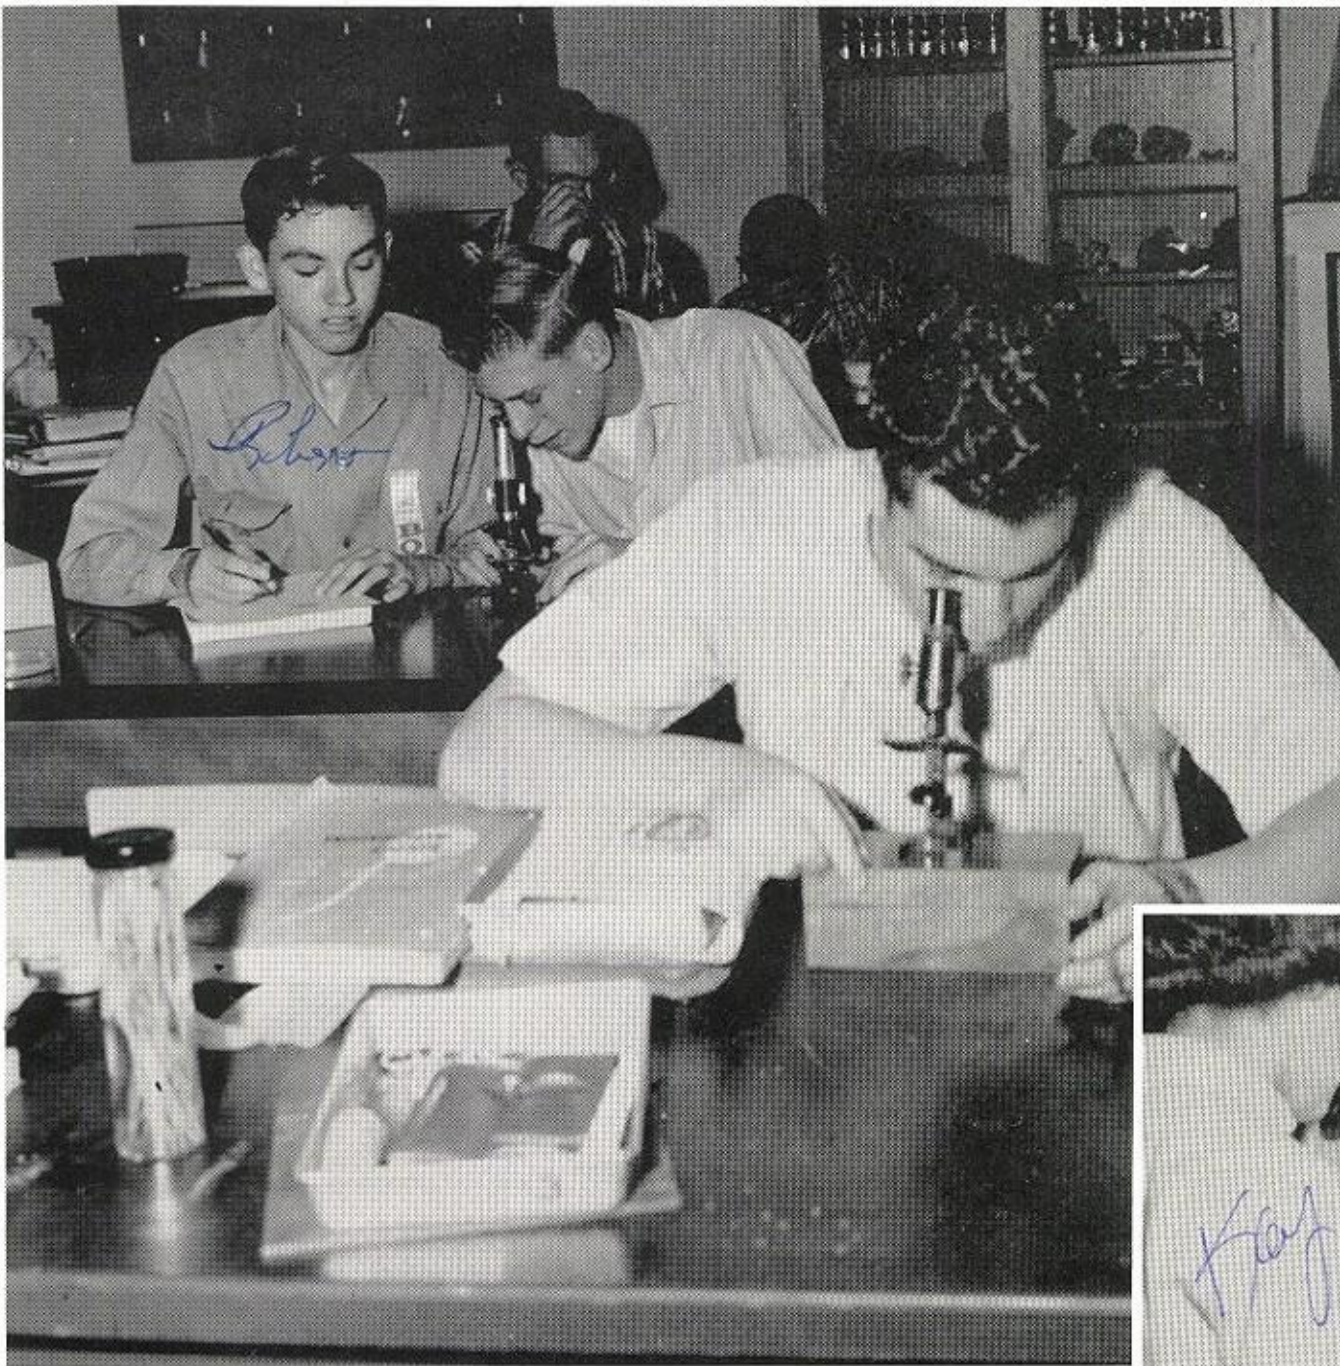

BIOLOGY

Noting and sketching the urogenital system of a frog.

Besides antics, the little white mouse furnished bacteria for culturing.

Searching for wheat-rust a fungus growth is an engaging task.

Getting bacteria for culture dish three or four days in advance makes for better results.

CHORAL

Senior Glee Club gives their annual song fest under the direction of Sister Frances Therese.

Dancing ballerinas perform as the Junior Glee Club sings the song "Chiapanecas," of traditional origin.

Practicing "He Shall Feed His Flock" are Kathleen Eisenbies, at the piano, Pat Tierney and Donna Gradel singing.

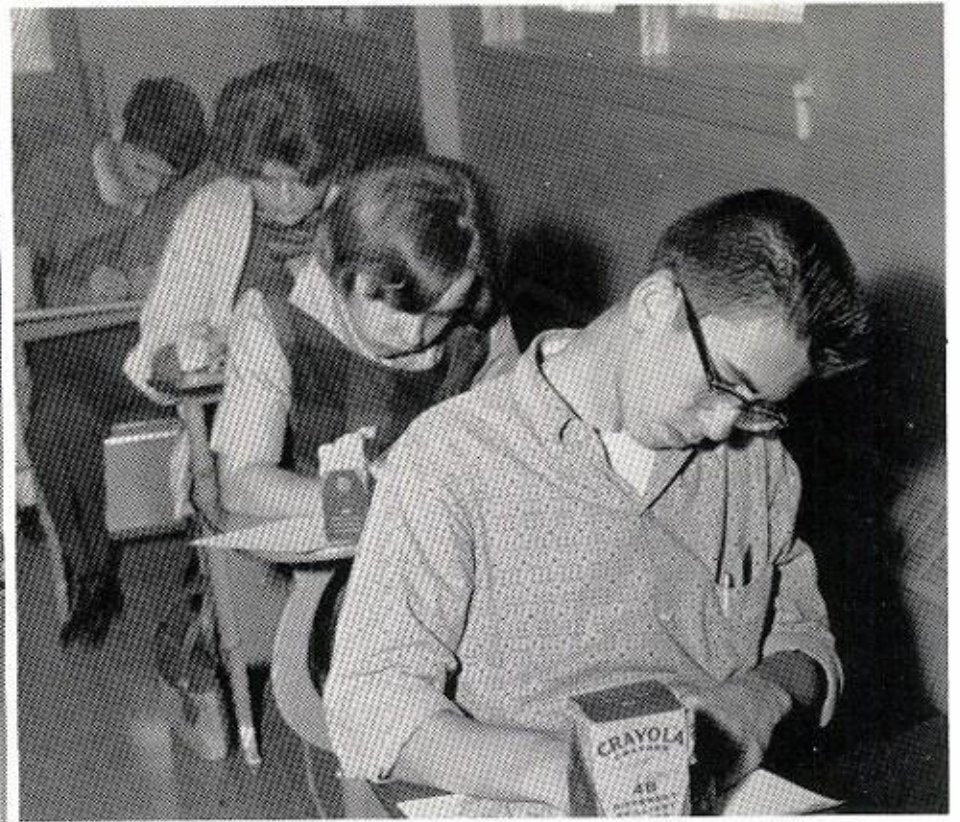

These boys lend voices and musical talent to church and school functions.

Listening to Ravel's "Bolero" a composition in which the rhythm of the Spanish bolero dance is used.

Francis Cherise

ART

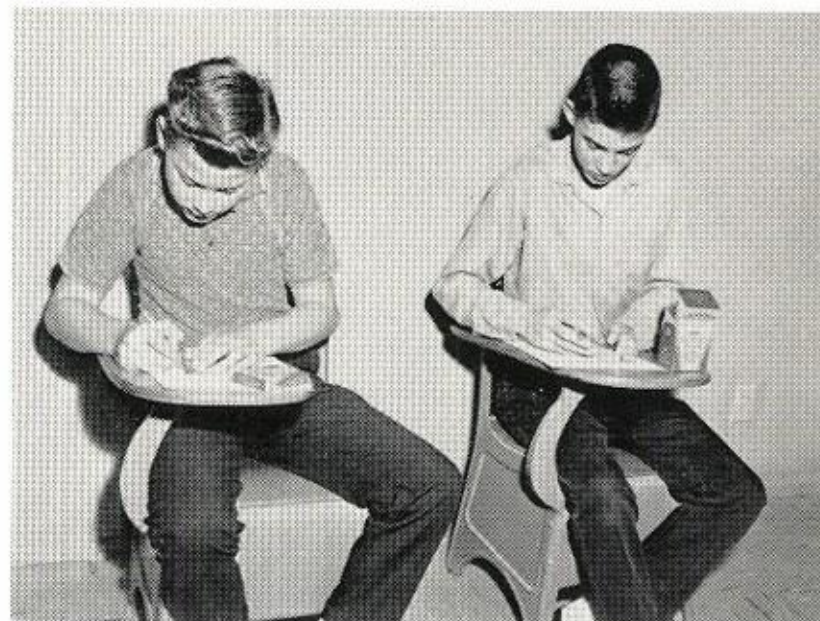

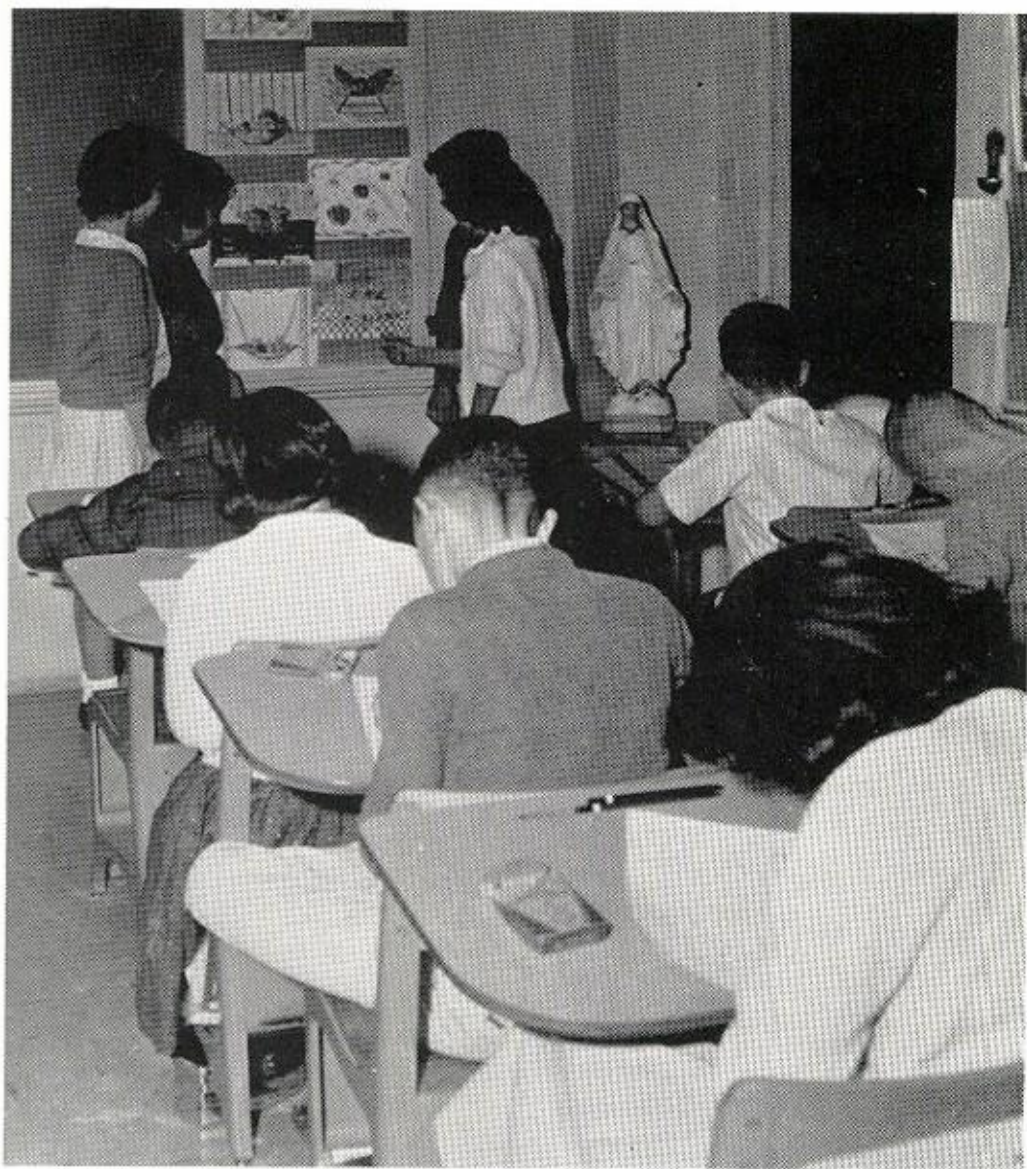

Studying the works of noted artists inspires art students toward a greater use of techniques in color design or in compositions which are pleasing.

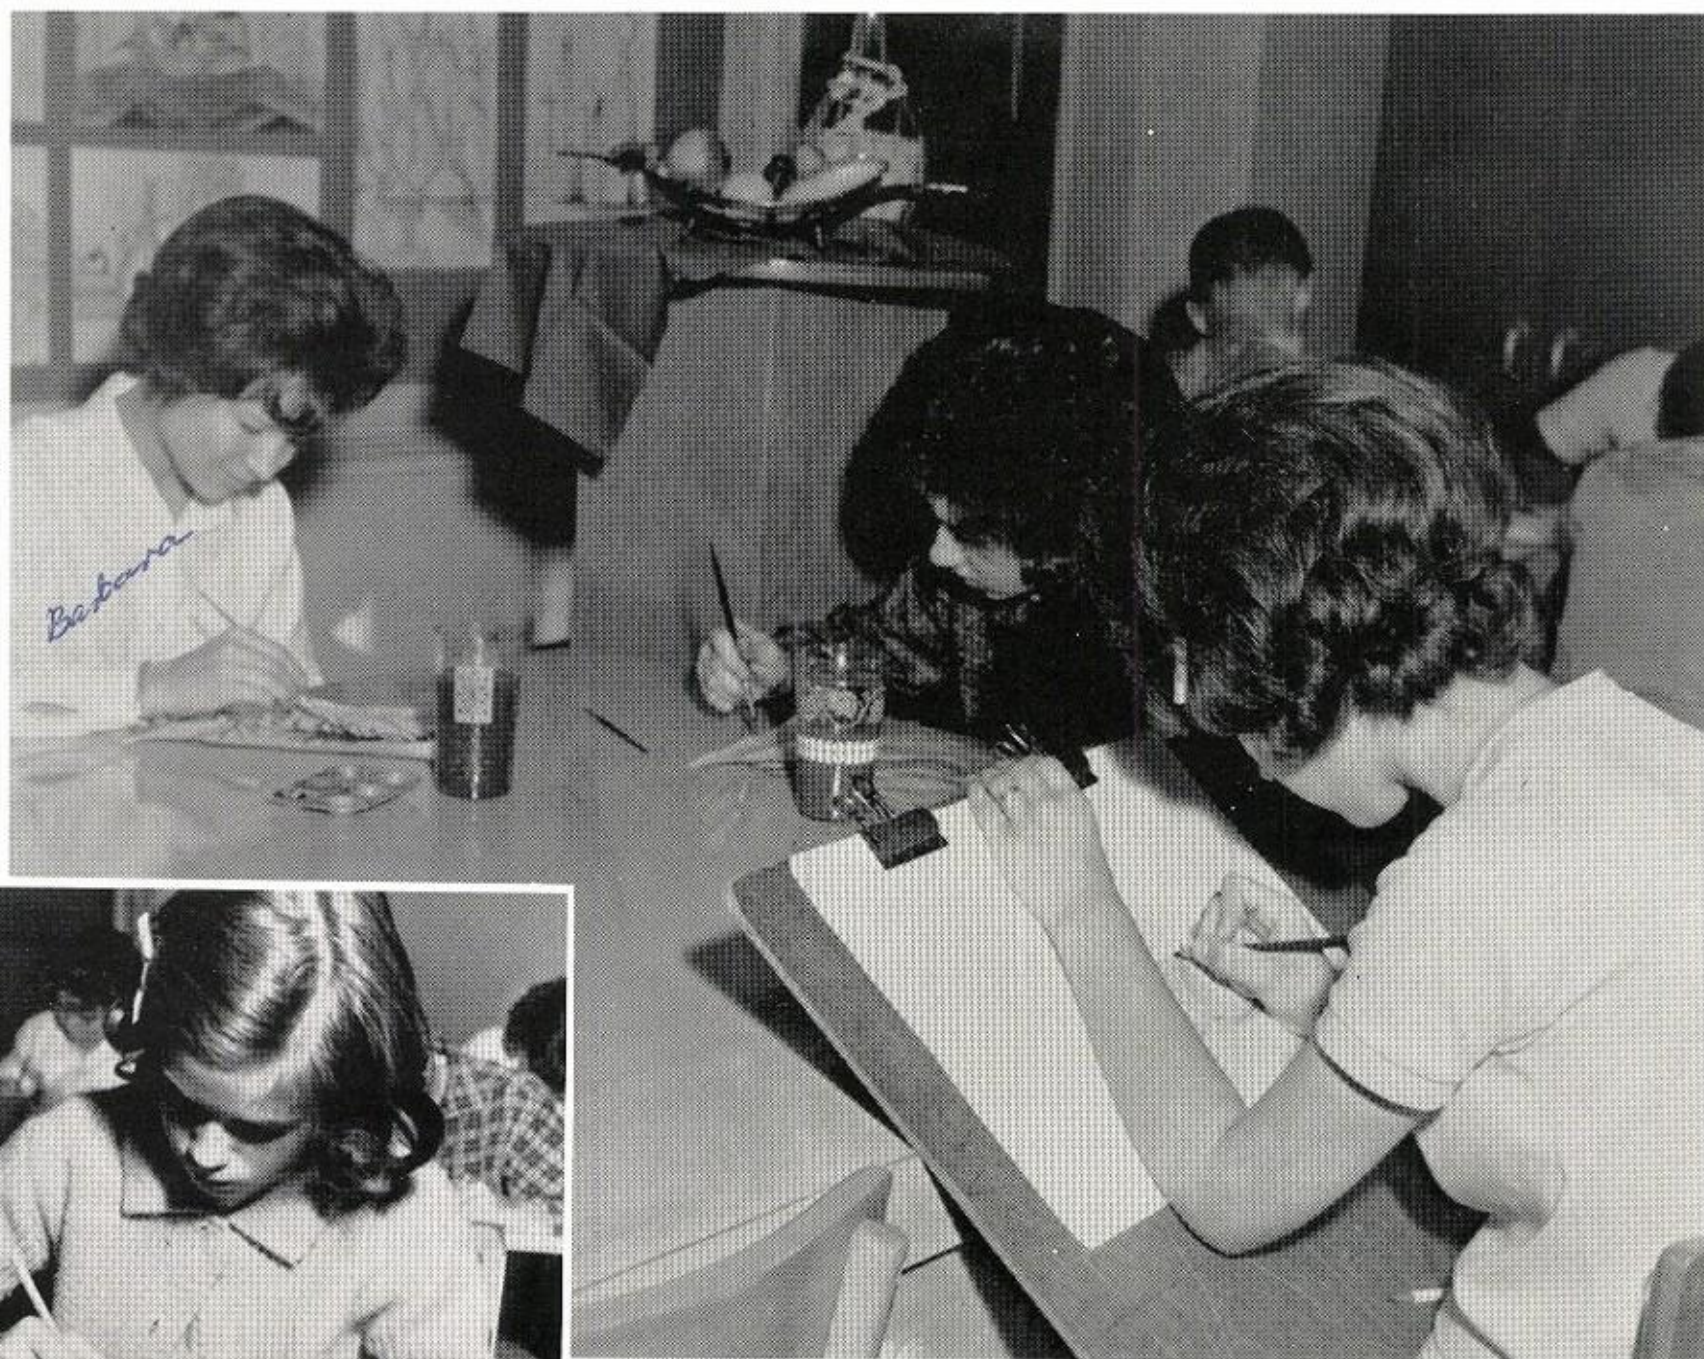

Art expressions are important in a student's life.

There is a lot of thinking in handling a spatter-gun skillfully!

Opportunities to be creative are taken advantage of in each project undertaken, whether the art media be crayola, charcoal, oils, water color, or colored pencils.

DEBATES

SPEECH CLASSES

Speech students are encouraged to put action into their speech. Patricia Hurtado demonstrates her method of making plastic animals from a coat hanger base.

A bit of humor is aroused as David Warbol gives his "On Eating An Apple" speech.

RECITATIONS

SPEECH EXERCISES

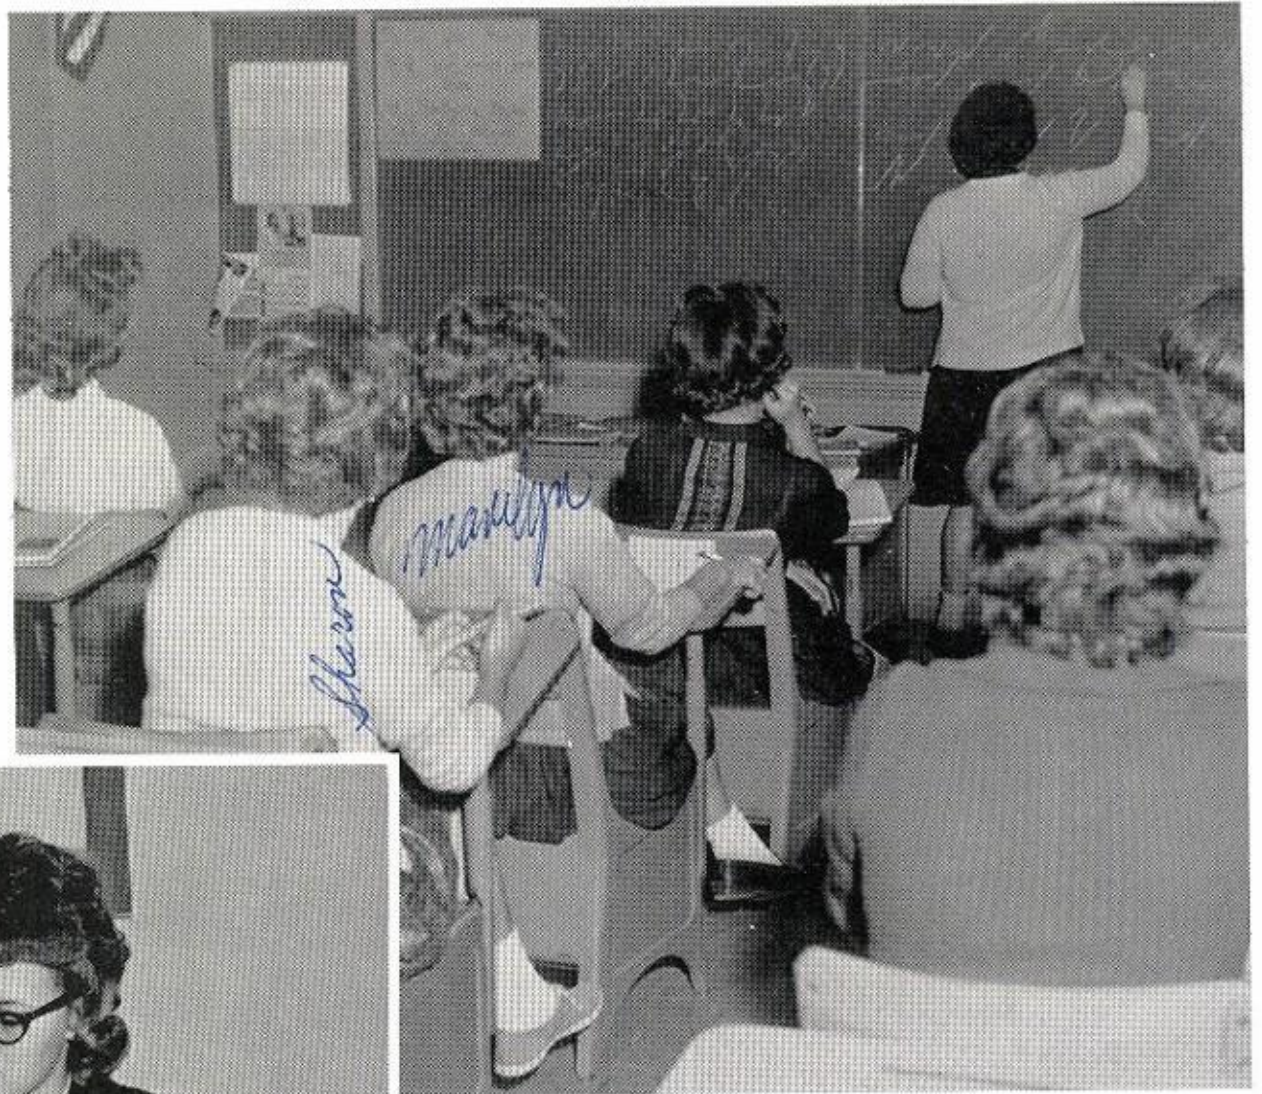

Seventh grade speech students try to get the feel of deep breathing. Follow up exercises call for breath control in varying degrees as students give shorter or longer recitations.

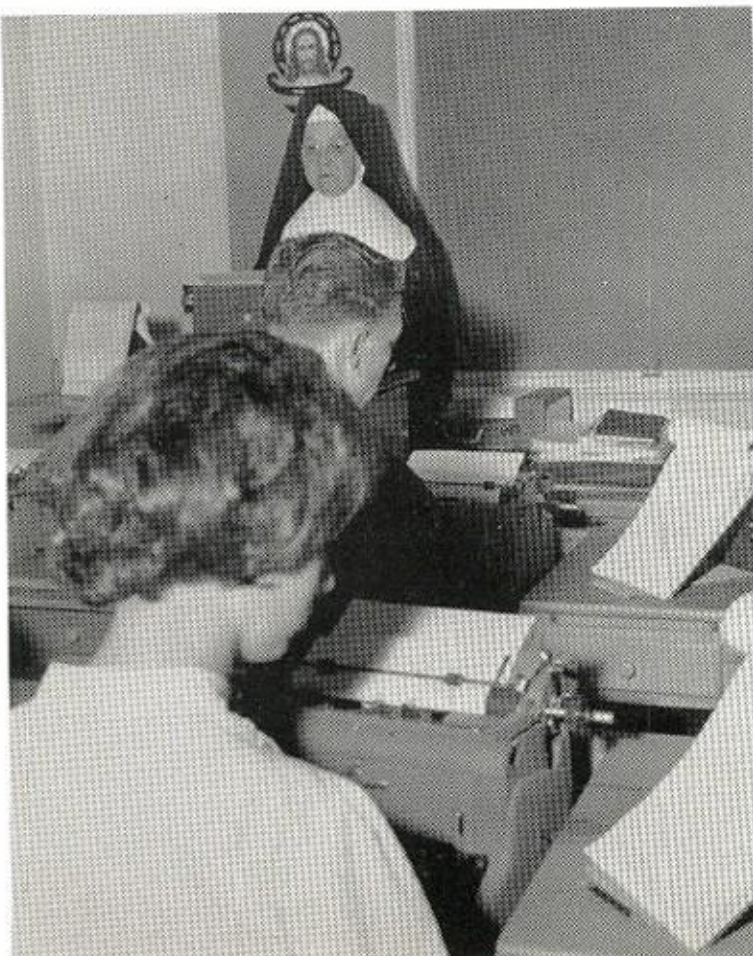

Sister Karen Patrice tells her speech students that the first step toward improving one's voice is to hear it as others hear it. Recording voices gives the student an opportunity to listen critically to his own voice.

TYPING BOOKKEEPING SHORTHAND

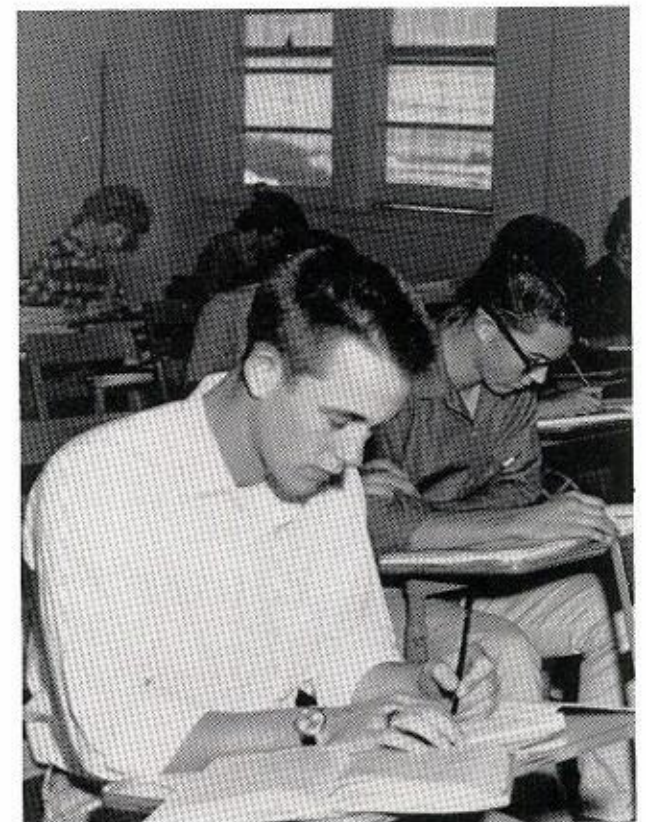

Childhood, girlhood, boyhood are no longer simple dictations for Junior girls in the first stages of shorthand.

Two young operators are hopeful that the comptometer will total correctly.

every new typist's

Bookeepers at work!

Checking to see that the debits and credits are equal is a task.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Future bookkeepers enjoy Mr. Randall's grocery set. "A=L+P," is Sister Mary Erna's pet expression in bookkeeping class.

Guided group discussions liven interests in Miss Pettinger's eighth grade Social Studies classes.

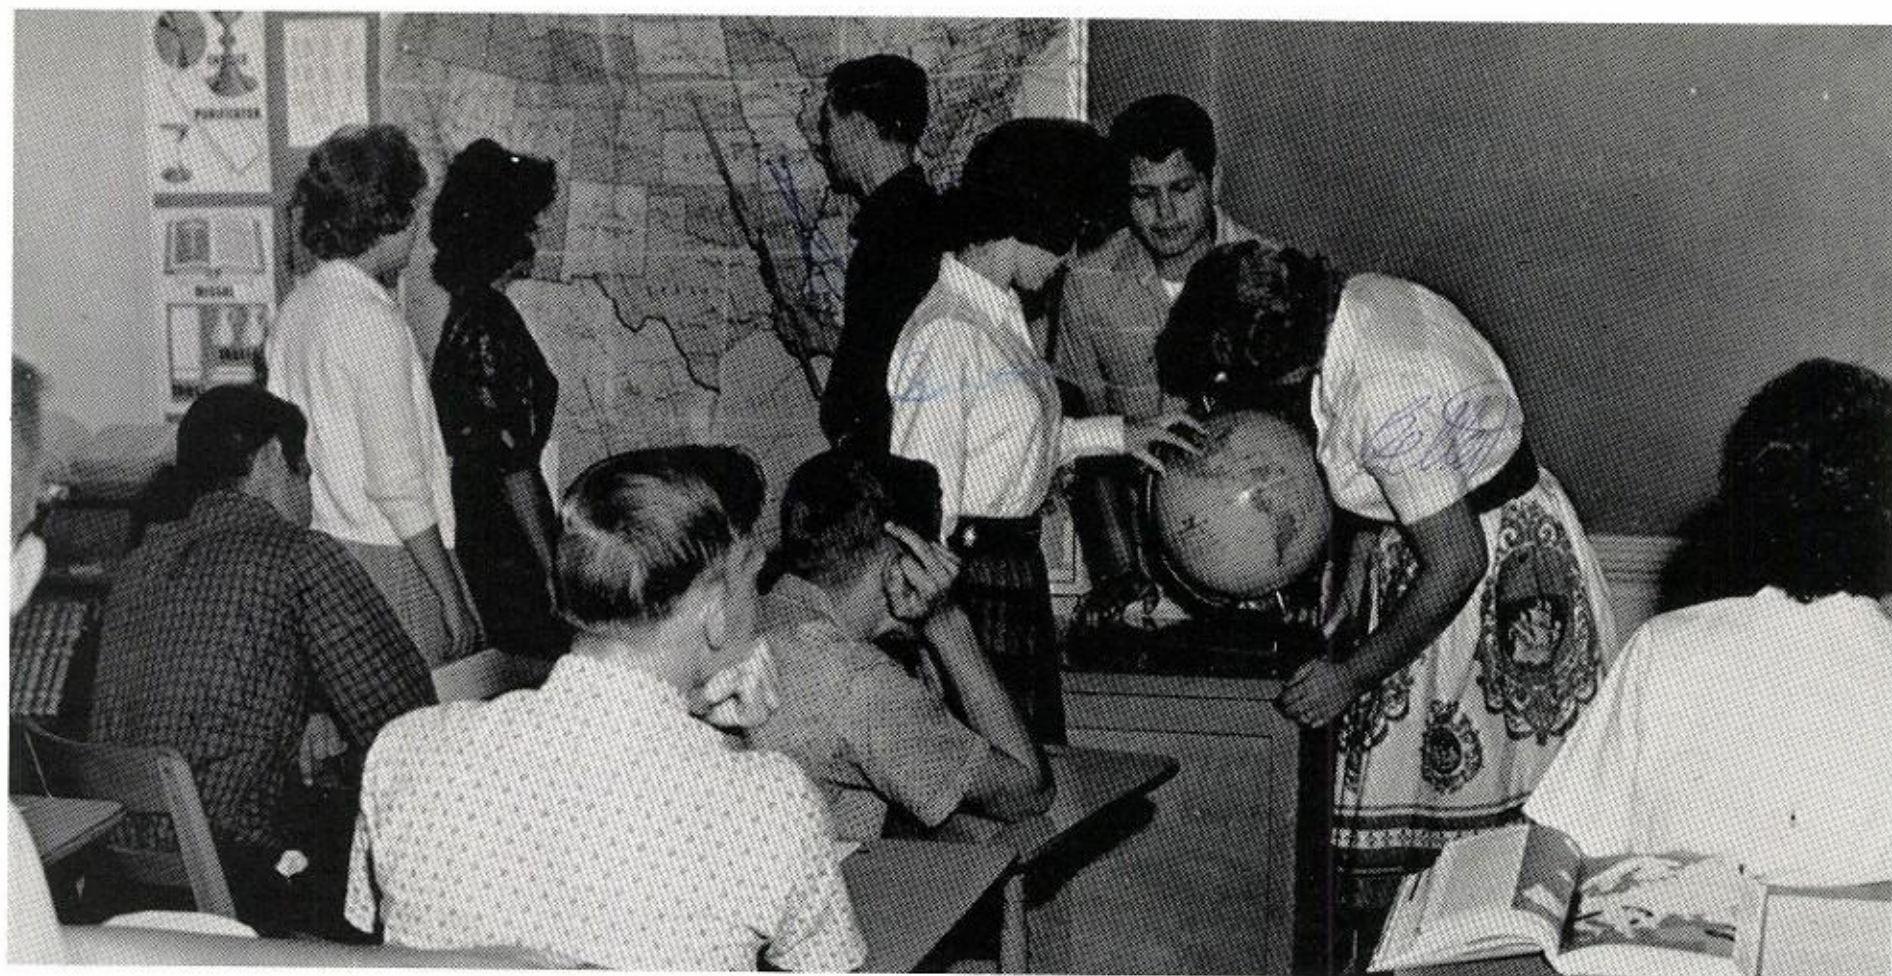

American History Juniors became shy when the roving photographer spied in on them. They do study.

HISTORY CLASSES

"The Louisiana Purchase" is the serious topic of deep consideration.

Continents, countries, climate, plants, animals, natural resources, inhabitants, and many industries keep Sophomores on the move in WORLD GEOGRAPHY.

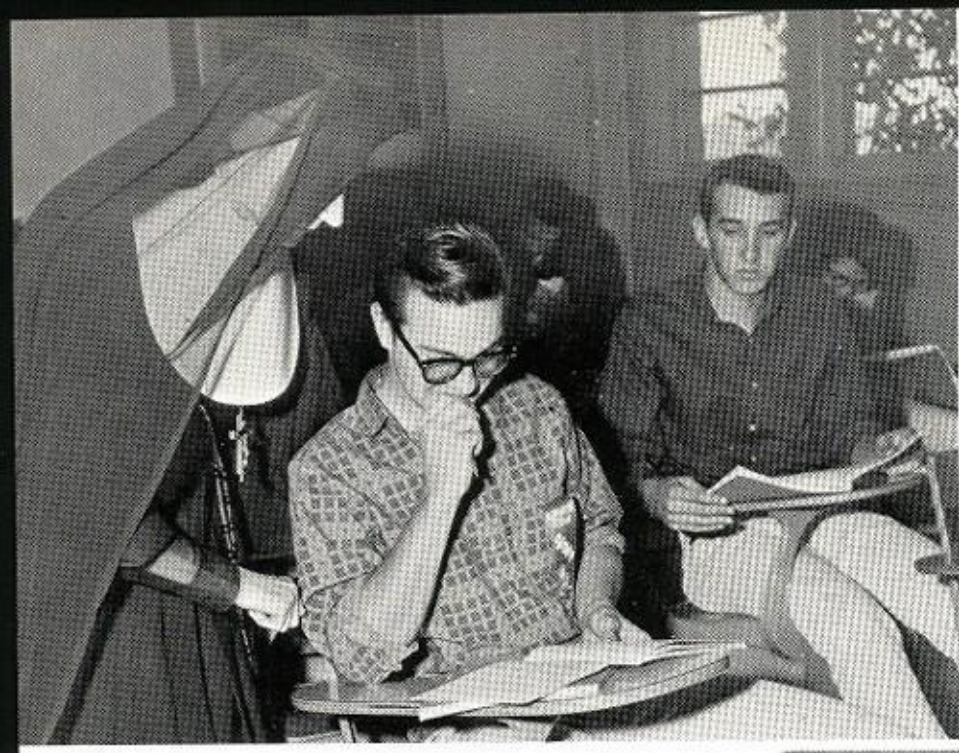

The Wendorf twins make the study of geography a pleasant pastime.

Father Leddy makes Texas History familiar to seventh graders.

SCHOLASTIC DEVELOPMENTAL PROGRAM

Learning has upped one hundred per cent through Sister Walter Marie's urgings to improve concentration in the process of reading.

Students vie with each other to achieve the status of a comprehensive reader.

Donald Barton and Kathy Moore are shown lost in the adventure of reading from their seventh grade text.

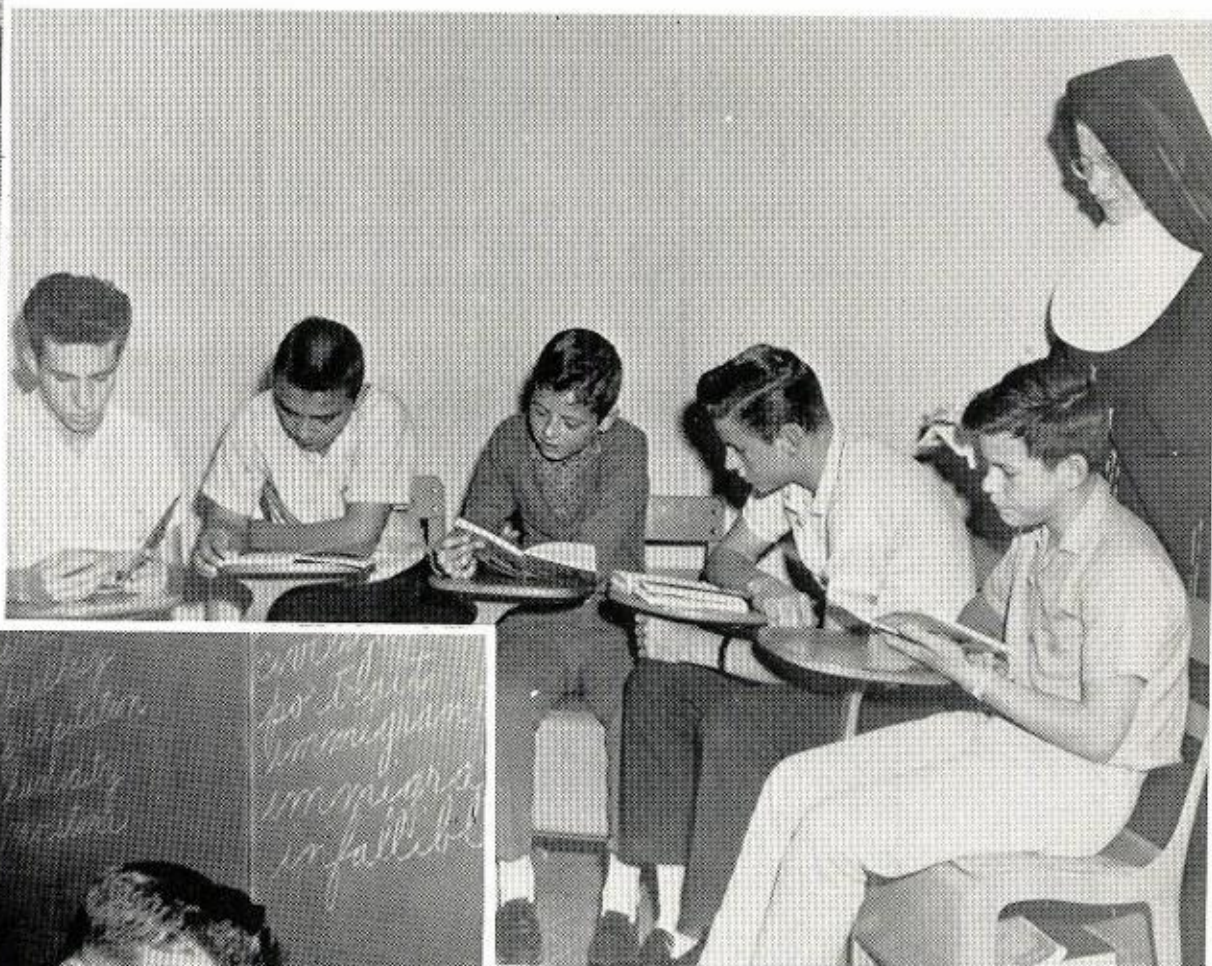

These seventh graders use difficult spelling words in an astounding fashion.

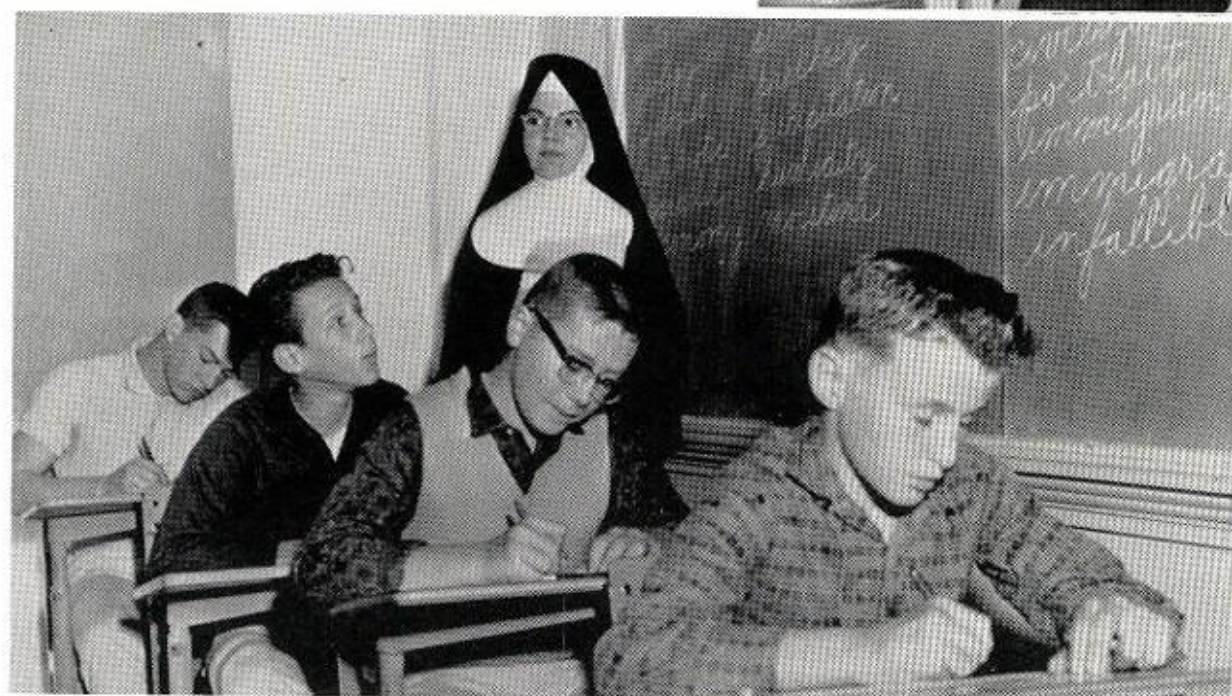

Sister Ellen Joseph explains the value of the S. R. A. program to parents of Freshmen students in strengthening reading and vocabulary comprehension.

SPELLING DICTATIONS

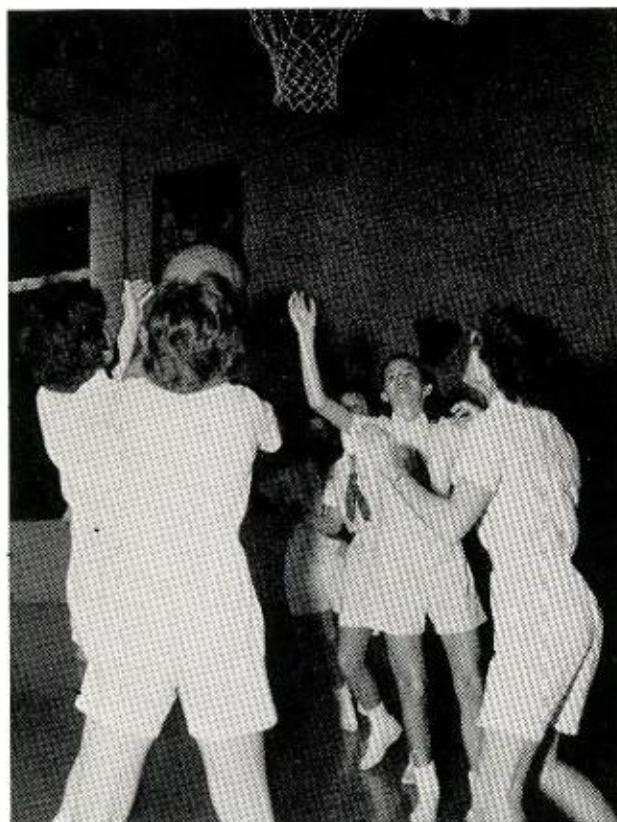

Sister Maria dictates word definitions for eighth graders to identify in writing. It's an excellent form for spelling dictation.

Freshmen complete follow-up exercises in the guided reading program.

NATIONAL HONOR SENIORS

Winning the distinction of membership in the National Honor Society comes through hard and persevering efforts for Karen Pardo, Donna Dougherty, Carolyn Hunt, John Pugh, Michael Kelley, James Frank, Davis Chauviere, James Barton, and Douglas Matthews.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Good nourishing noonday meals are provided throughout the school year by five valiant women. They follow the chores of any mother in her kitchen, but their cafeteria kitchen operates on a tremendously larger scale, yet they render each service with a smile.

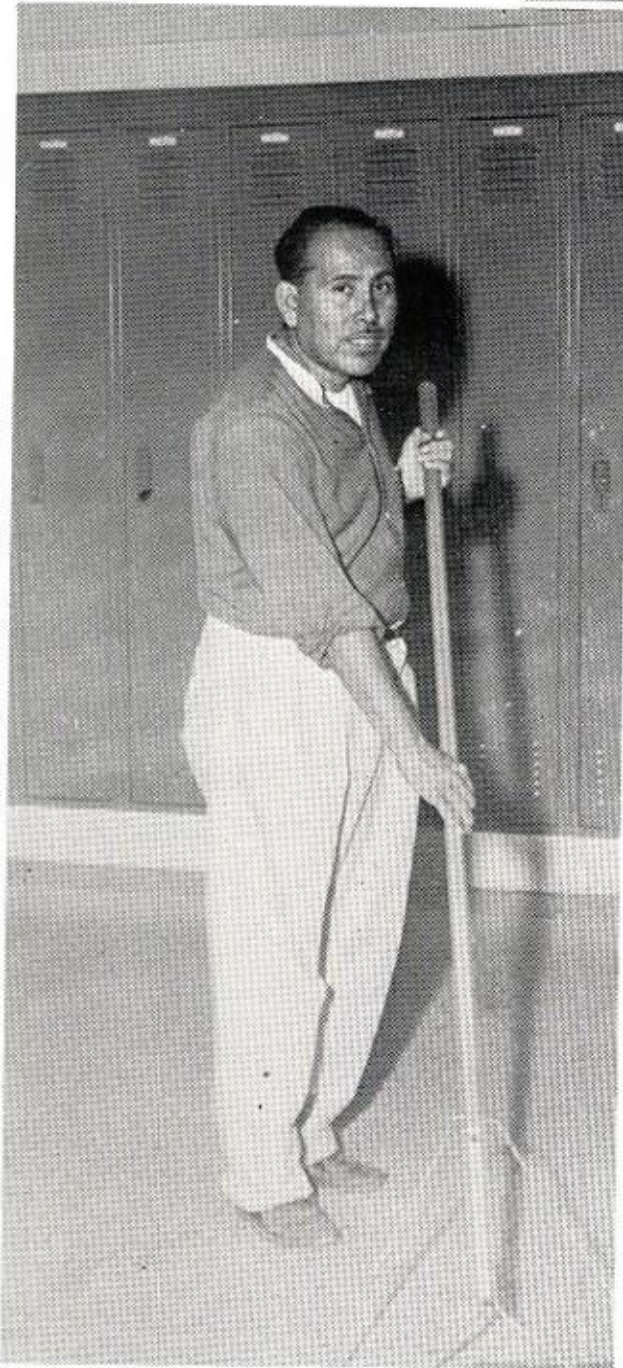

Mrs. Angie Hinkleman, Mrs. Darlene Engelke, Mrs. Ida Nitzschke, Mrs. Minnie Narrovac, and Mrs. Lola Jones (manager).

Members of the Student Council promote a spirit of friendliness in all the affairs of their school.

Mrs. Langlotz donates many hours in handling tuition, books, and supplies.

Mr. Frank Rodriguez is on the job keeping the halls and classrooms in tip-top shape.

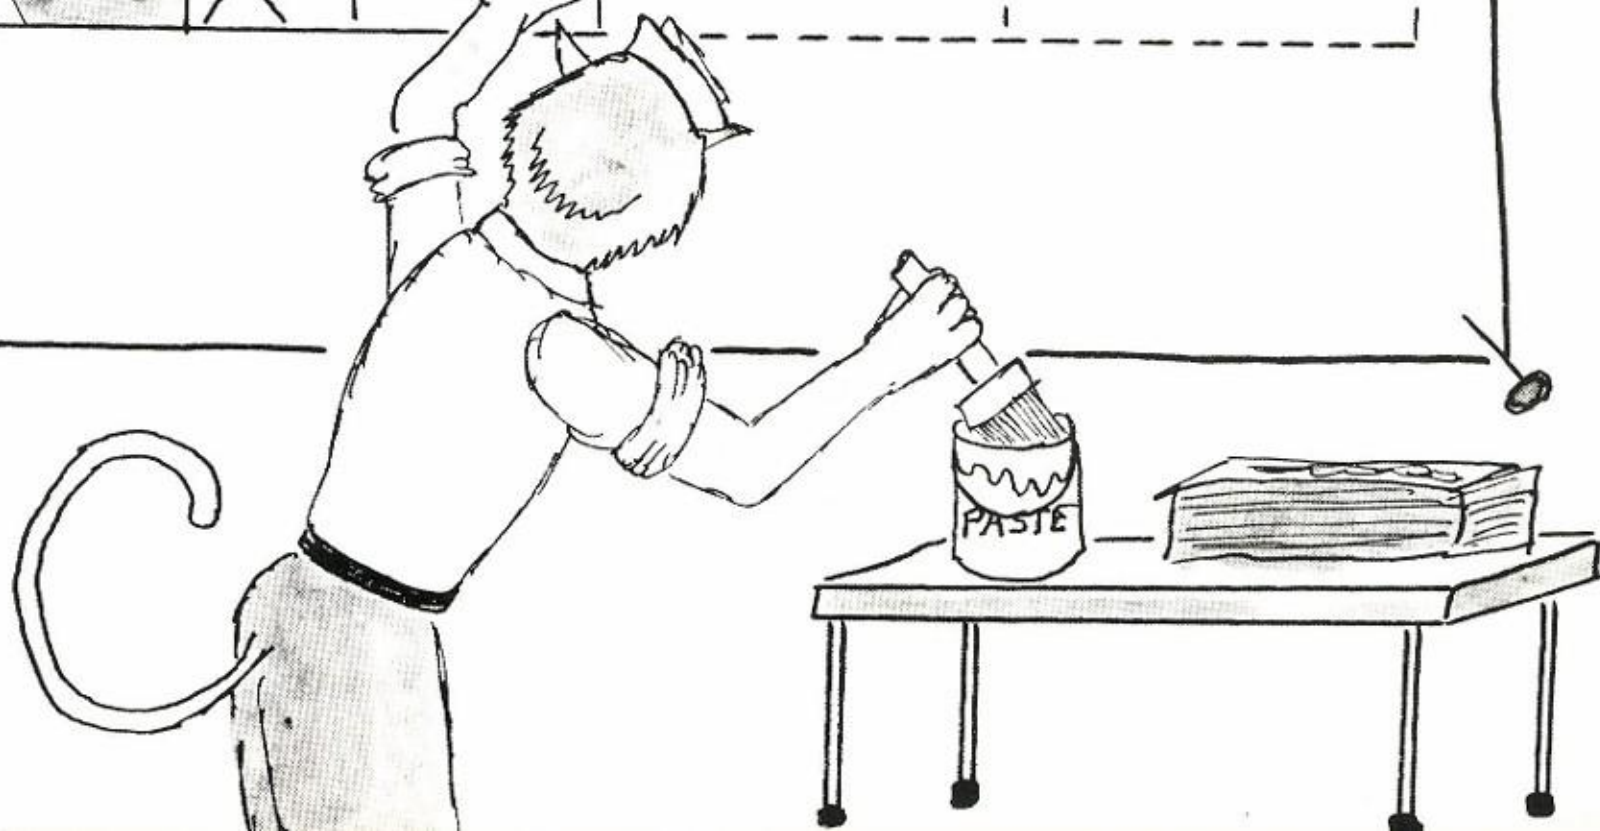

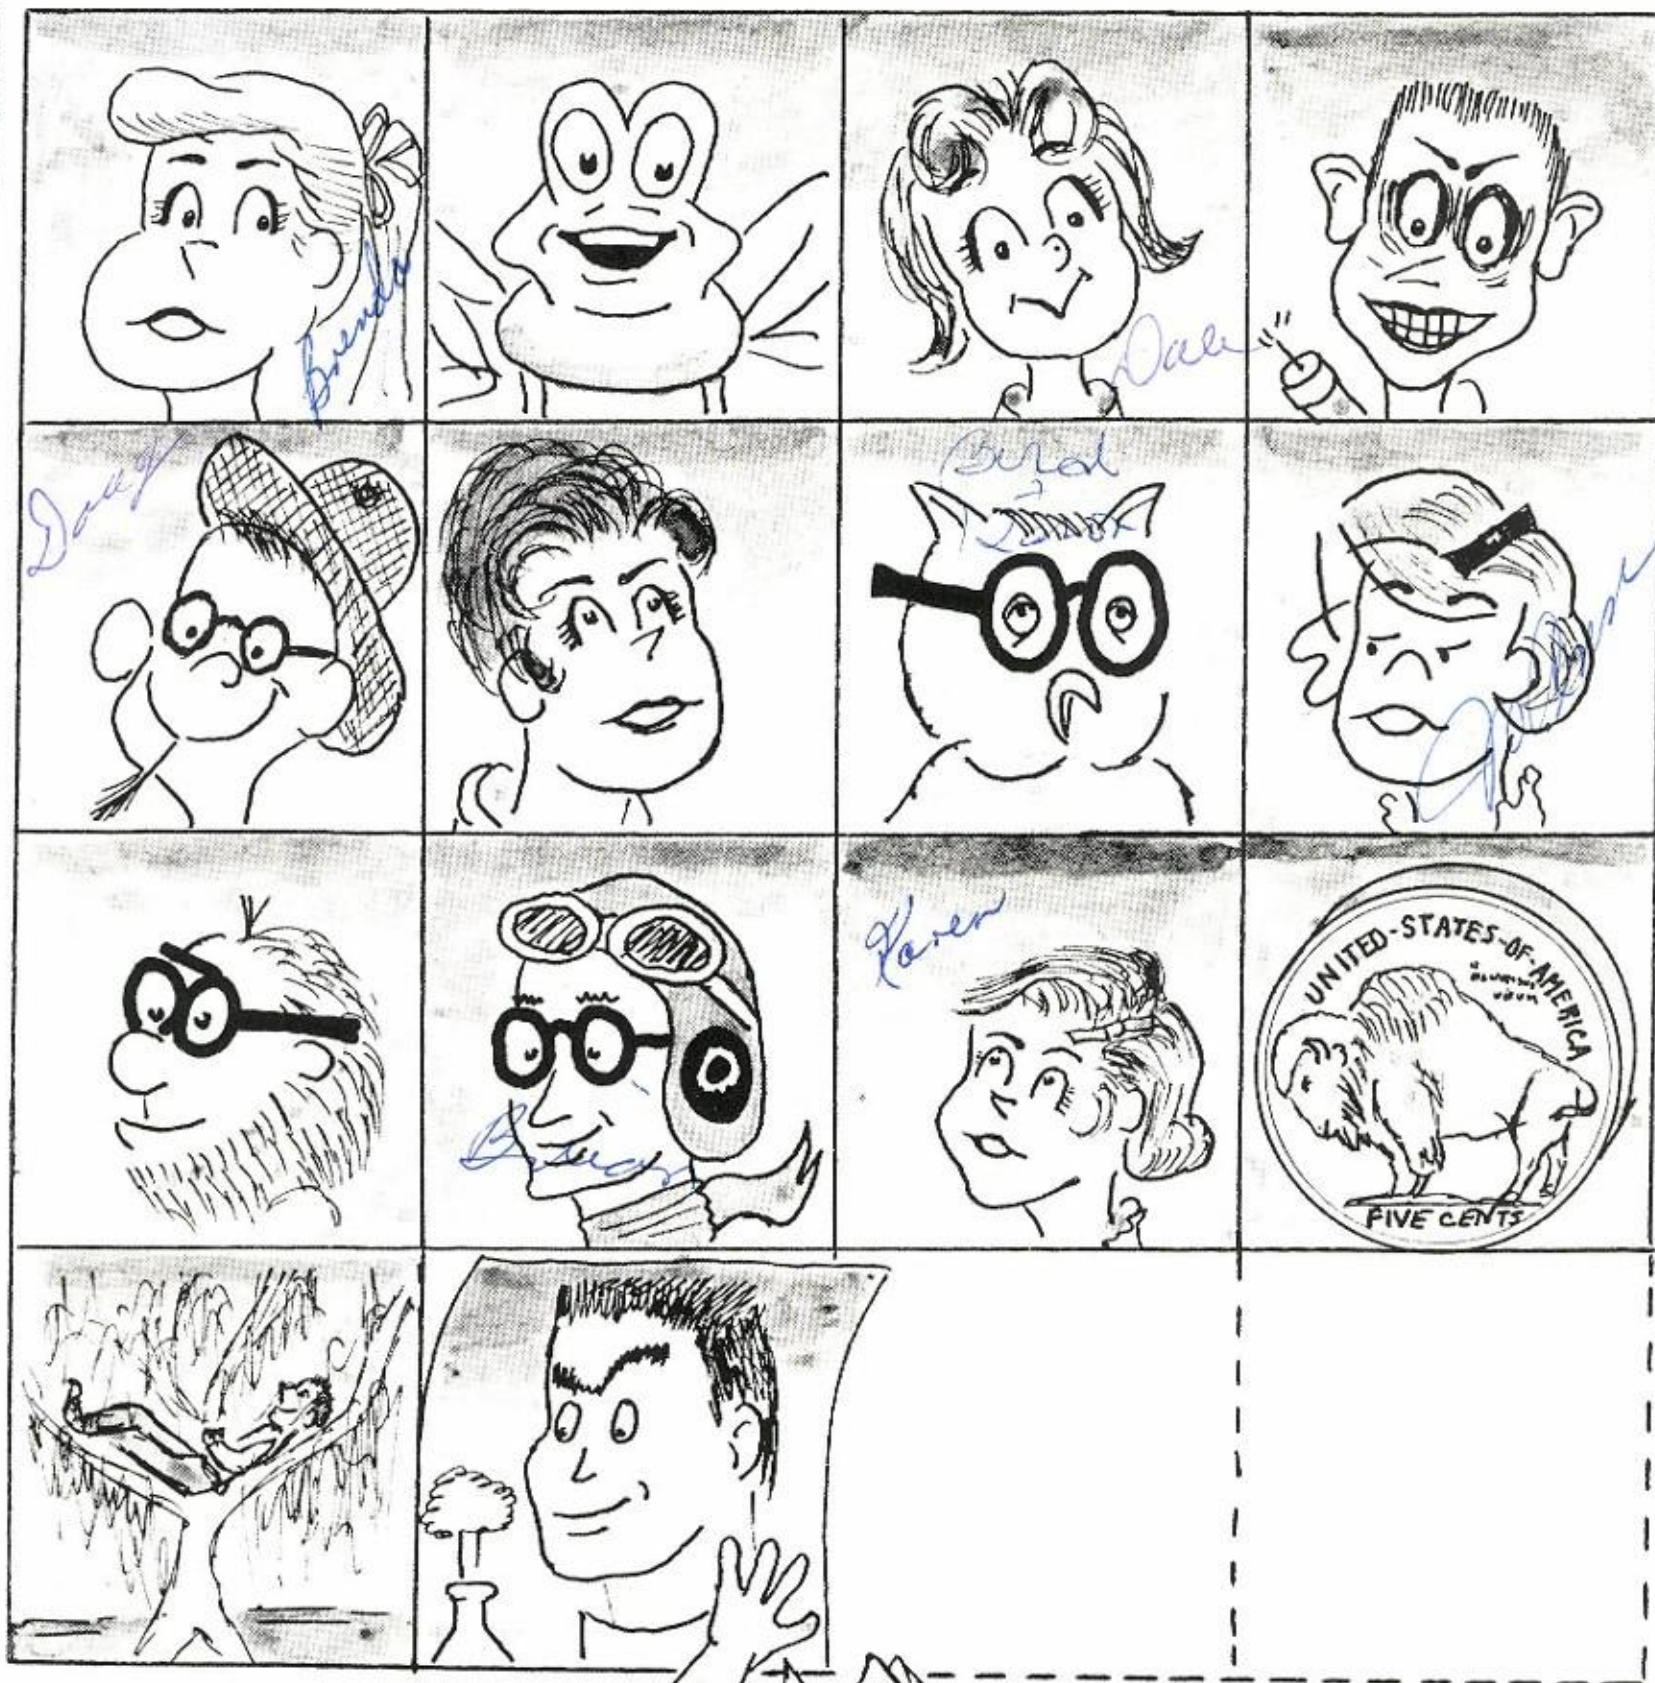

The members of the Sodality promote the good will of the student body through various projects.

NUCLEUS OF A CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Growth in the knowledge of God comes through study and prayer, and although study is very important, prayer is more so. We must ask God to teach us to know Him, to reveal Himself to us in the depths of our soul through faith and the gifts of the Holy Spirit, especially the gifts of understanding and wisdom. From our increased loving knowledge of God, it is inevitable that we shall influence others to a deeper awareness of God.

" . . . in the moment of Christ's victory the veil of the temple was rent from top to bottom, which means both that God is a new way accessible to man and that all that man does is to be part of his worship and praise of God: his work, his human activities, his cultural pursuits are not a distraction but a vocation."

OUR SOPHOMORES

"Holiness is wholeness; talents are not to be buried in napkins but lovingly developed for and in the love of God; the more fully and completely human we are, the more complete our praise of God can be; it is good to praise him not only through temple sacrifices and strictly spiritual pursuits, but as the psalmist tells us, with trumpets and flutes and dancing, with drums and triumphant clash of cymbals."

"Man was first made to be a gardener; and as now his art must turn wilderness and wasteland into fields and gardens, so instead of the primitive cave-shelter he must have the amenities of a home well built and furnished, and the primitive raw materials of speech and song must evolve into the beauties of language and music."

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

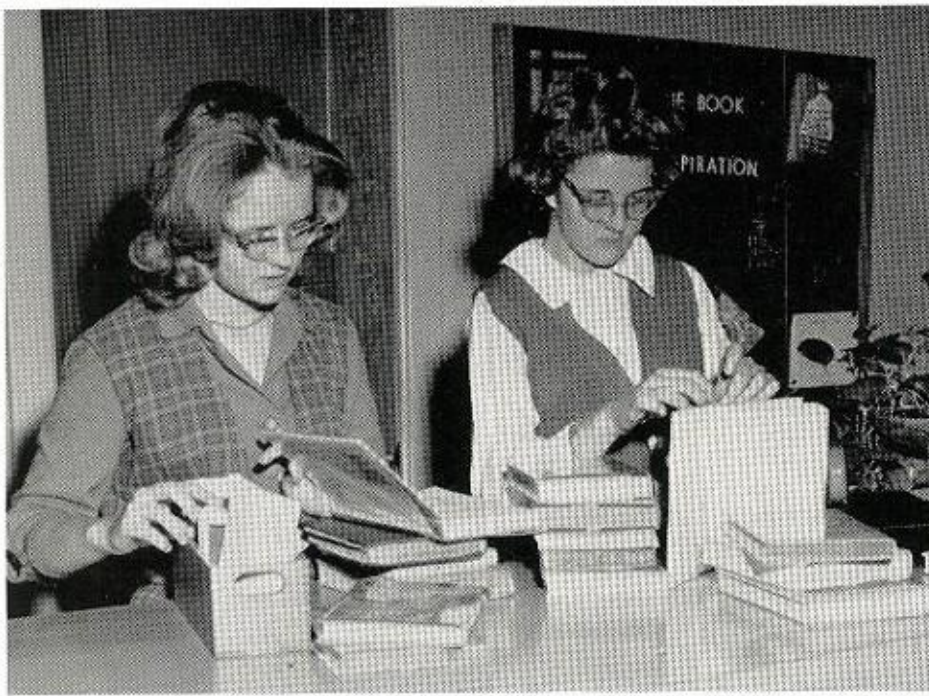

The J.C.L. slaves auction, the major fund raising function of the club, initiates the new members while recreating the ancient slave auctions of Rome.

President Mike Kelley speaks!

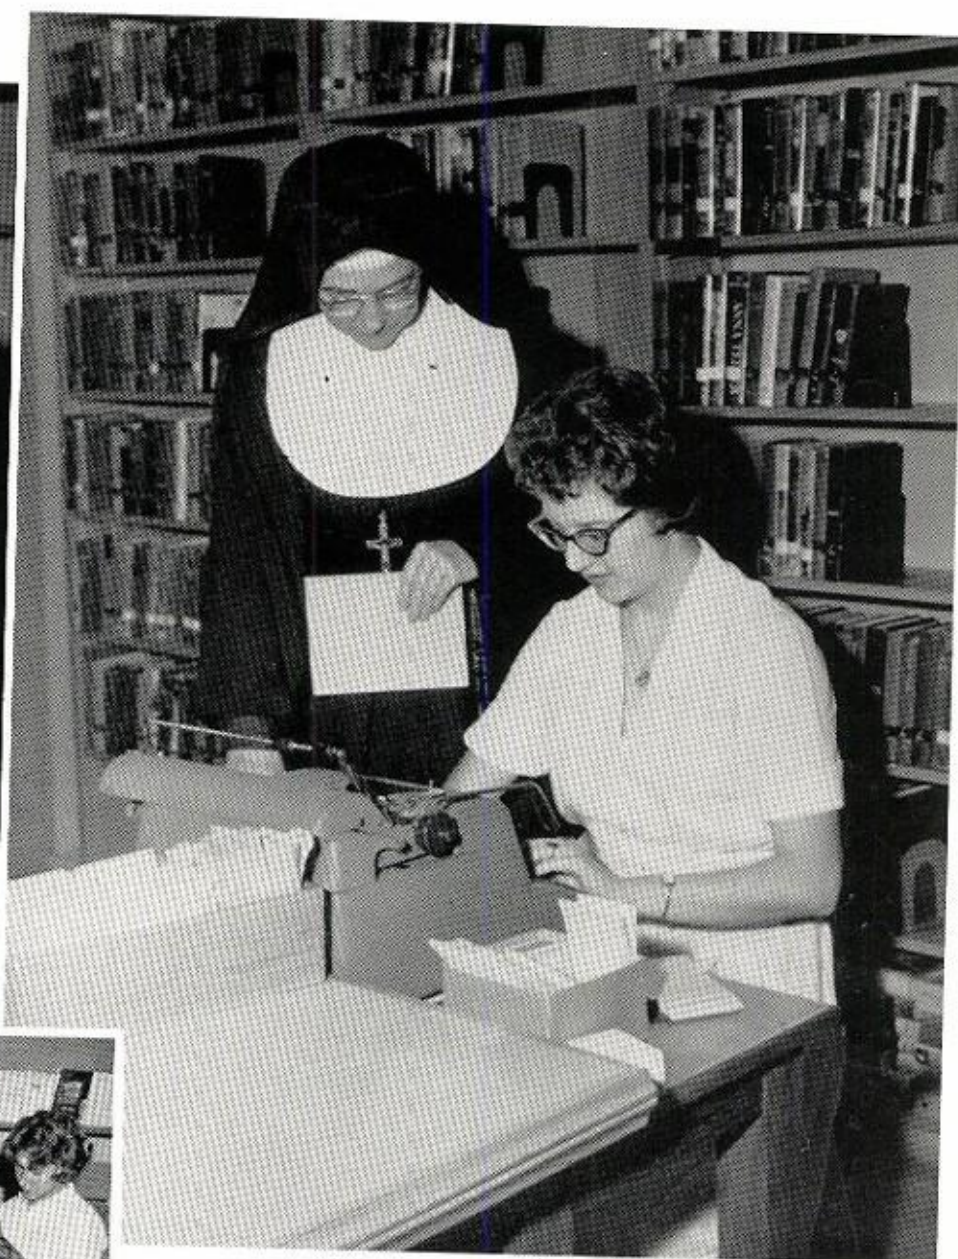

The purpose of the J.C.L. is to keep alive the flame of classical civilization. Showing entries for state convention in Lubbock are Brenda Brown portraying the role of Diana; Bill Maloy as a Roman priest; and Davis Chauviere explaining his oil painting of a Roman sea battle. Father Leddy is moderator of the club.

LIBRARY CLUB

Librarians help to keep thousands of books in circulation. Accessioning, stamping, covering, typing cards and pockets, shelving, filing, binding magazines, dusting and cleaning are jobs which give valuable experience for a job as a librarian when attending college. Fifty hours a year in a high school library is quite an investment for a future-college-going young lady . . . or young man. There are men-librarians too!

Requiem Mass Is Offered For Father Vincent Nucci

Father Vincent Joseph P. Nucci, 37, died in his sleep early Sunday morning at Seton hospital, where he was serving as chaplain, in the absence of the Rev. Doanld McLeaish, who accompanied Bishop Reicher to the Second Vatican Council.

Father Nucci was born and reared in Boston. After completing his study of philosophy, he entered St. Mary's seminary in Houston and was ordained for the diocese of Austin in May 1960. In that summer he was assigned to St. Mary's, Lampasas, while Father Bernard Goertz was attending chaplains school at Ft. Slocum, N.Y.

HE SERVED for one month at Sacred Heart parish in Austin, and was given his first permanent assignment as an assistant at St. Mary's of the Assumption in Waco.

When Father McLeaish left for the Council, Father Nucci came to Austin to take over the duties of Seton chaplain and the new St. Peter's church in Austin. Father Richard McCabe, of St. Louis parish, will fill in at Seton until Father McLeaish returns, and Fathers Deason and Driscoll of Sacred Heart parish will take care of St. Peter's parish in the interim.

SOLEMN REQUIEM Mass for Father Nucci was offered at St. Mary's cathedral on Wednesday, Oct. 17 with the Rev. Charles Sacco of Beaumont as celebrant. Father Nucci's classmates, Fathers Fred Bomar and Aleck Lazek served as deacon and sub-deacon. Father Robert Mahoney was master of ceremonies and other schoolmates of Father Nucci acted as minor ministers of the Mass. Monsignor Edward Matocha preached the sermon.

After the Mass in Austin, the body was taken to Beaumont where a second Requiem Mass was offered at Saint Joseph's church on Thursday, Oct. 18. Burial was in Beaumont.

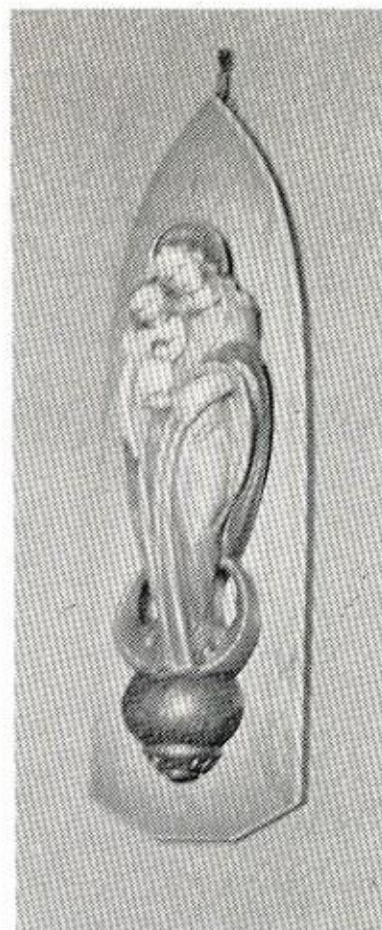

Father Vincent Nucci

O God, You raised your servant Father Vincent Nucci to the dignity of a priest in the apostolic priesthood; grant, we entreat You, that he may be joined in fellowship with your Apostles for evermore.

GROWN-UP TOTS

Pitter-patter of baby feet,
Shouts and chatter and noise,
Can you imagine us darlings
Grown-up girls and boys?

SENIORS OF SIXTY-THREE
Forty strong are we!

Ruth - you still have a few more years in R.H.S. and the sister Francis (poor you). But may these years be happy ones!
 You're a hamster year very sweet gal. Stay that way and you'll go along with them.
 #

To one of the cutest girls I know. Hope we will be friends always!
 Good Luck in the future!
 Dorothy

Dear Ruth,
 I hope you're the fairest one of us. The most beautiful girl I've ever met.
 Love you always
 Barbara

To girl who can play the clarinet like Benny Goodman, just follow your nose and you'll succeed. To have done pretty good so far. As far as that you.

Rev.

Ruth, you have been a very good friend to me this year. Love you always Barbara

Dear Ruth,
 I have enjoyed being in your class this year. Hope we will be friends always.
 Sincerely,
 Mary

Dearest Ruth
 Aren't you a cute gal -
 Stay that way forever!
 Aggie

Dear Ruthie,
 Boy, has this been a hectic year. We've sure been busy - having fun and doing homework. Under the classification of fun comes your slumber party, my surprise party, all the football games, basketball games, and baseball games.

I know I'll always be friends so I won't have to say anything about that.
 Love always,
 Mary

To a real neat and sweet girl. I love you if it's true. I'm possible to know someone just like you.
 Mary

Buck -

I hope we will always stay as good friends as we are
now. You have a wonderful personality and wish it
you're of far!

Love ya really

Your

You are a real sweet girl. Lots of luck in the future.

Steve

To a good friend and a swell clarinet player. Lots of luck in the future
to one of the sweetest girls at Reichen. I've really enjoyed going to "The Place" with
you. Come back next year & we can supper together & be yourself & you'll go far in this wild world.

Good luck
all your life!
